BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL OF ROBBERS

Follow Scent From Manilla Depot To
The Town Of Homer. After

SAFE WAS TAMPERED WITH

Agent At Station Did Not Discover
Anything Taken—Freight Boxes
Were Opened

The Pennsylvania railroad station at Manilla was entered by thieves during the night, it was disclosed this morning when H. R. Hupp, agent opened up the place, but an investigation did not reveal that anything was taken.

Blood hounds belonging to Dr. Wayne Alter of St. Paul, were rushed to the scene of the robbery early this morning, and they immediately took up a scent, and took down the railroad, following the tracks to the town of Homer, two miles east.

At this point, the traces left the railroad, and the bloodhounds were withdrawn from the search, and the detectives from Louisville will resume the search from this point. It is hinted strongly that a clue will be followed, and because no officer was present this morning, the hounds were taken away from their trail, which was said to be leading to the suspect.

The robbers used a sledge hammer in knocking off the tumblers and knobs of the safe, but they did not gain access to the interior, where the money and valuables were kept.

Several boxes containing freight shipments and trunks, which were stored in the depot, were broken into, but a checkup was made today of the contents, and as far as could be determined, nothing was missing from the boxes.

The agent at Manilla notified the officials of the railroad, and detectives from Louisville were expected today. Sheriff Hunt also was notified, and was ready to assist the officials in tracing down any clue which might develop.

A few weeks ago, it will be recalled, a robbery took place at the garage in Homer, when over $300 worth of tires and tubes were stolen, and at that time local talent in that vicinity was suspected and it may develop later that there was a connection between the two robberies.

PIONEER OF COUNTY IS DEAD AT MILROY

John B. Harrison, Age Eighty-Eight Years, Expires At The Home Of
His Daughter Monday

EARLY RICHLAND SETTLER

John B. Harrison, a pioneer native of this county, expired at the age of 88 years Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Wolfgang, in Milroy.

The deceased spent his earlier days in the vicinity of Richland, where he engaged in farming, and was one of the earliest settlers of that community. He had been in failing health for several weeks, and his death was not unexpected. The daughter is the only near relative who survives.

The funeral services will be held at the late residence Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in charge of the Rev. R. R. Cross, and burial will be made in the Richland Presbyterian cemetery.

SAFETY SAM

Mebbe th' guards that stopped th' prisoners in that Maryland pen with birdshot would be able t' stop some drivers at rail crossin's.

HAVE A HEART

Before his sermon Monday night at the United Presbyterian church, the Rev. W. McClean Work of Richmond asked the congregation not to be discouraged if they didn't like the sermon. He then told them of a sermon he preached while he was still in seminary in the old church in Pennsylvania where his father had been baptized.

An old gentleman came up to him after the service and after telling him that he and the speaker's father had been boys together, had gone to school and church together, had gone swimming together, he told him how delighted he knew the father would be if he were living to know that his son was in the ministry. Then he looked at the young preacher and said, "I just says to my wife as I listened to you preach, that some of the very best preachers in our whole church didn't amount to very much to start on."

PERSONALITY ATTRACTS MEN

Christianity is a Religion From a Person, by a Person and For a Persons, W. McClean Work Says

TWO WEEKS REVIVAL OPENS

Richmond Minister Points Out Spear-
Riven Side of Christ Has Drawn
Men to Him

"Personality is the one thing that always attracts men, the one thing without which real attainment is impossible," said the Rev. W. McClean Work of Richmond in his opening sermon Monday night, of the two weeks meetings which are being held at the First United Presbyterian Church.

The theme of the sermon was, "The Personalities of Religion," from the text, "If I be lifted up from the earth will draw all men unto me," John 12:32.

Mr. Work said that even in an age of organization, such as the twentieth century, the one thing that made organizations and corporations possible is the personality or personalities behind them.

"In this text," said the speaker, "there are three personalities. The person from whom Christianity comes, the person by whom it comes, the person for whom it comes. In other words, Christianity is a religion from a person, by a person and for a person."

"Matthew gave the world a picture of Christ, the prophet, and many men have been drawn by it. Mark, writing particularly to the Roman world, portrayed Christ as the man of power, the wonder worker, and many have been drawn by the lure of his power. Luke showed him to the world of Greek culture as the man of wisdom, the great teacher and philosopher, but running through them all and culminating in the great Gospel of John, the Christ is held before men as the priest."

"Where the words of the prophet have failed to stir, where the glitter of the crown has failed to dazzle, the nail-pierced hands and the spear-riven side and the thorn-scarred brow have drawn men to Christ, the priest. It has been the way of the cross that has led home more than all things else."

"But Christ must be lifted up if he is to draw men and he must be lifted up by those that believe on him. Then and only then will all men be drawn to him."

Mr. Work will preach tonight on the theme, "The Breadth of Salvation." Services begin promptly at 7:30.

SCHOOL HEAD STRICKEN

LOCAL PLAYERS IN A SPLENDID BILL

Second Performance of Little Theater Society Again Demonstrates

TWO EXTREMES DEPICTED

Comedy of "Suppressed Desires" Offset by Utter Tragedy of "Where
The Cross is Made"

The superiority of one-act plays for amateur players was again demonstrated Monday night when the Little Theatre Society of Rushville presented its second bill of the winter before a very enthusiastic audience that filled the lower floor of the theater and overflowed into the balcony.

The program consisted of "Suppressed Desires", a comedy by George Cram Cook and Susan Glasspell; "Where the Cross is Made", a tragedy by Eugene O'Neill, and "Tamar", a ballet arranged by Raymond Gregg from "The Demon" by Lermentow.

The comedy provided a splendid vehicle for the talents of Miss Elizabeth McWilliams, who played the part of Henrietta Brewster, a woman whose devotion to psychoanalysis was destroyed when she had an actual experience with its workings; Stephen Brewster, played by A. F. Cotton, the husband of Henrietta, and Miss Mary Ruth Jenken, who had the part of Mabel, sister of Henrietta.

Miss McWilliams possesses a fine voice and her characterization of the wife who was disillusioned when she found her theory of suppressed desires did not apply to her personal relations, made the part very realistic.

Mr. Cotton as the disgusted husband of Henrietta, was very convincing in his presentation of the part and Miss Jenken as the sister of Henrietta, admitting her shortcomings as an intellectual, acted the role in a very effective way, especially when she entered into a plot with Henrietta's husband to prove to Henrietta that the effectiveness of psychoanalysis depended on where it was applied.

"Where the Cross is Made" offered an opportunity for fine character delineations that were very effectively done by Denning Havens as Nat, the son of a crazed sea captain; William Worthington, his father, and Miss Bertha Adams, his sister.

The tragedy in the lives of three people due to the illusions of the old sea captain that the Mary Ellen, a vessel which he sent after hidden treasure, would eventually return, though reported lost for three years, was brought out most realistically.

True characterizations were essential to make the utter tragedy of the story seem real, and how well these three capable people did their parts was deconstructed by the rapt attention of the audience and the spontaneous applause that greeted them when the final curtain went down. It was a thing that was never attempted by local amateurs before and the success of the venture only serves to give a vision of the possibilities of the Little Theatre.

"Tamar" was characterized by beautiful costuming, pretty dances, some good music and lovely scenic effects in which bright colors played a very effective part.

Miss Charlotte Norris as Tamar, the wicked queen, was good, but at her best when she sang "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" by Saint-Saens. The play opened with a dance by six attendants at the court of the queen—May Elizabeth Beale, Virginia Sentman, Mary Elizabeth Wagoner, Olive Logan, Frances Kirkpatrick and Judith Mauzy. Raymond Gregg appeared as Boyar who was in reality the demon in disguise, and who attempted to win the hand of the wicked queen. Failing in this, he returns in his true form and does the dance of the demon.

William Beher and Fred Virtue were slaves in the queen's court. A

DEMONSTRATION IN PHYSICAL WORK

Given by Junior High School Boys
and Girls at Rotary Club Luncheon Today Noon

BOYS WORK MEETING HELD

Dr. J. M. Walker Says We Need to See That Boys do Not Get Wrong
Conception of Work

A demonstration of the kind of physical education work that is being done in the Rushville public schools was given at the regular meeting of the Rotary club today noon at the social club by nineteen boys and girls of the junior high school, under the direction of A. F. Cotton, physical director.

The meeting was arranged by the boys' work committee of the Rotary club to stimulate interest in boys work and begin preparations for summer boys' work, which was started last summer with a boys' camp, culminating two months work during the summer vacation with boys and girls under Mr. Cotton's direction.

In this connection, the physical director said that it was his ambition to start free classes in physical culture as the basketball season ends, so that the high school gymnasium will be available, and it is assured that arrangements can be made for the use of the gym.

The proposal met with the hearty approval of members of the Rotary club and it is regarded as certain that other business and professional men of the city will be very anxious to take up the work.

Other plans, it was stated, are being worked out for a concrete program for boys and girls during the summer vacation, which involves the city park. They are just now taking form and will be announced later as soon as they are definitely arranged.

A part of today's program at the Rotary club was also a discussion of the so-called boy problem by Dr. John M. Walker, a member of the club, who stated that though the youth of today may have greater advantages and fewer handicaps than those of any earlier day, when the schools were meagrely equipped, the one-room schools still had a fellowship that is not possible today, in which boys and girls educated one another.

Dr. Walker asserted that we need to see that boys do not get the wrong conception of work, because of the idea that prevails in some circles that toil is a disgrace. The nobility of work is a thing that young people need to learn, he said.

Boys, the speaker asserted, need a man as a pattern, on whose example they will follow, and they should be taught, he continued, that if they get an inspiration in the measure that they should, they will not have to have a stimulant to keep them on edge. If a boy gets an ideal for inspiration, he will need none, Dr. Walker said.

"We must remember, too", he stated in conclusion, "that this is God's problem as well as ours and that he will help us share it. We must believe in boys. Let the help we give them not be born of doubt, but of confidence."

Mr. Cotton explained that the

STEAM FIRE ENGINE TESTED

Old Equipment Of Fire Department
Found To Be Working Good

The steam fire engine, one of the historic relics of the fire department was taken from the fire station Monday afternoon and given a test in throwing water. The engine worked good and had a strong pressure. It is being kept in reserve at the fire station, and is used only in case of serious fires, where water is drafted from the mill race.

The modernized motor pumper has replaced the steam engine, but it is considered good protection in case of a serious fire, or breakdown of the water and light plant.

Doctor Receives Indian Cradle as Fee For Services

Dr. D. D. VanOsdol has just received an Indian papoose cradle from the Chippewa reservation at Lac du Flambeau, Wis., for services rendered at the birth of Dorothy, child of Paul Ne-ganigigig, while on a fishing trip though Wisconsin a few summers ago.

The father being unable to pay the Rushville physician at the time, now sends the cradle to pay the bill as Dorothy has outgrown it. The doctor has it on display in his office with other Indian curios.

TWO DEMOCRATIC BILLS ARE HALTED

Senate Postpones Indefinitely Measure To Abolish Office Of County

TAX RATE BILL IS SHELVED

Passage Of Bill To Prevent 500
Auto Race Memorial Day Assured, Author Says

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 30.—Two democratic measures were halted in the state senate today when the senators voted to postpone two bills introduced by Senator Batt.

One bill to abolish the office of county highway superintendent was postponed by a vote of 29 to 14. The other measure, a bill to remove the power of fixing local tax rates and vest it in the county council, was also postponed.

A bill empowering cities to employ women police was also shelved by the senate.

A new bill put before the house provides for the reorganization of the state board of education. It was introduced by Representatives Leveron and Murden.

Trappers of wild game and fur bearing animals would be required to pay an annual license of $10.00 under terms of a bill introduced by J. H. Johnson.

A certificate of vision would be required of all drivers of automobiles under terms of a bill introduced by Rep. Stelhorn.

Definite assurance that the bill to prevent the annual 500-mile automobile sweepstakes and other commercial sporting events in Indiana on Memorial day will pass the state house of representatives was given today by Ralph Urdike who presented it in the house.

"Out of the 100 members, 72 have pledged themselves to vote for the measure as it stands and to resist expected attempts to push through amending amendments," Urdike declared. "The bill will come up for second reading tomorrow and I'm going to make a speech supporting it to prove that I'm not yellow."

The measure already has passed the senate and it is reported Governor McCray will not veto it if the bill is approved by both houses.

TO GIVE MYSTERY COMEDY

Arlington High School Will Stage
Play Wednesday Night

The Arlington high school will present a three act mystery comedy Wednesday night at the high school gymnasium, and the title of the play is, "Am I Intruding". The curtain will rise at eight o'clock, and music for the show will be provided by the high school orchestra.

Twelve students are in the cast, and the play is said to be exceptionally good, and is given on a royalty basis. The show is abundant with comedy, and farcical situations in which a threat of mystery is woven to keep the audience in suspense from the start.

J. H. KIPLINGER TO RETURN TO EUROPE

Leaves Wednesday For New York
and Will Sail Next Week For
Two Months Stay Abroad

TO RESUME LAW PRACTICE

Services of Rushville Attorney on Commissions Settling War Problems are Recognized

John H. Kiplinger, who returned from Washington Friday, after spending several days there on business, will leave Wednesday for New York and will sail next week for Europe where he will attend to business matters, and then will return to Rushville to resume the practice of law.

Mr. Kiplinger returned to Rushville last December after spending four years in Europe, first as an army officer, later as a judge advocate in the district of Paris and finally as an employee of the allied reparations commission, during which period he did much valuable work in writing and negotiating protocols and as vice-chairman of a sub-commission supervising the report of war loot taken by Germany.

His work concluded, Mr. Kiplinger returned home the latter part of last year, but finds it necessary to return to Europe for two months. He will be in the heart of the occupied area of Germany while away and expects to get some first-hand information regarding the conditions which have grown out of the French invasion of Germany to enforce reparations payments by Germany.

Mr. Kiplinger refused to comment in any way on the relation of the United States to the European tangle, which has been complicated by the criticism of the acts of America's unofficial observer on the reparations commission.

The Rushville attorney organized Company B of the Fourth Indiana Infantry here during the summer of 1917, after the United States declared war on the Central Powers, and was commissioned its captain. The company was ordered to Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss., in August of that year, and shortly after arriving in camp for training, the Fourth infantry was converted into the 139th Field Artillery and members of Company B were placed in the Headquarters company and Battery A of the outfit. Mr. Kiplinger was appointed captain of the Headquarters company.

He was detailed to go to Fort Sill, Okla., in December, 1917, where he finished the school of fire, and in September, 1918, sailed with an advance detail from the 139th to attend a firing school in France. The regiment followed soon afterwards and was ready to go into action when the armistice was signed November 11, 1918.

The 139th was ordered home December 1, 1918, but Captain Kiplinger was ordered by general headquarters to the headquarters of the Third Army of Occupation, and in January, 1919, under the reorganization of the judge advocate's department in Paris, was asked to assist in the reorganization of the trial work by the chief of staff.

He remained on duty in Paris until his discharge from the army in 1920, his last duty being to close up the district of Paris for the judge advocate. In 1919, in addition to his duties in the judge advocate's department, Capt. Kiplinger was in charge of special work in Switzerland, investigating graft in the quartermaster's department.

On March 1, 1920, Capt. Kiplinger was offered a position as head of the legal service of the finance section of the inter-allied reparations commission. He accepted it and held the post until June of that year. He was then appointed a member of the sub-commission of the reparations commission at Weisbaden, Germany, which was created for the supervision of the return of war loot by Germany, and served as vice-chairman of the commission.

The commission consisted of five

Income Tax Facts

While the exemptions for married persons are $2,500 for persons whose net income for 1922 was $5,000 or less, and $2,000 for persons whose net income was more than $5,000, there is inserted in the income tax law a qualifying clause in justice to the taxpayer whose net income just exceeds $5,000. The law provides that the reduction of the amount of the exemption from $2,500 to $2,000 shall not operate to increase the tax which would be payable if the exemption were $2,500 by more than the amount of net income in excess of $5,000. For example, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones had a net income for 1922 of $5,010. Without the benefit of the above provision, their tax would be $102.40 ($5,010 less $2,000 equaling $3,010, at 4 per cent.) Their actual tax is $110.40 ($5,010 less $2,500 equaling $2,510 at 4 percent plus $10, the amount by which the net income exceeds $5,000. For the year 1922 there is no change in the normal tax, which is 4 percent on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the exemptions and 8 percent on the remaining net income. The surtax rates, which apply only to income in excess of $6,000, are lowered. For the year 1922 the surtax rates range from 1 percent on the amount of net income between $6,000 and $10,000 to 50 percent on the amount by which the net income exceeds $200,000. For the taxable year 1921 the surtax rates ranged from 1 percent on the amount of net income between $5,000 and $6,000 to 65 percent on the amount by which the net income exceeded $1,000,000.

The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return or in quarterly installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15, 1923.

SUIT TO FORECLOSE MORTGAGE ON FARM

Union Trust Company of Greensburg Makes Leea Lawson Defendant. Asking $1,300 Judgment

LOCAL COMPANY MADE LOAN

Robert J. Hall Files Petition to Have Guardian For Half-Brother Frank J. Hall

Two civil actions have been placed on file in the circuit court, one being a complaint on a note and to foreclose a farm mortgage, filed by the Union Trust Company of Greensburg, against Leea Lawson and the Peoples Loan and Trust Company of this city, and with the demand at $1,300 judgment.

The other action is a petition filed by Robert J. Hall against Frank J. Hall, a petition asking for a guardian, in which the petitioner sets out that the defendant is a "person of advanced age, and is incapable of managing his own affairs. The plaintiff is a half-brother of the defendant, who is now at the Indiana Masonic home in Franklin.

In the suit on a note, the plaintiff alleges that the first named defendant negotiated a loan for $1,000 in October 1921, and that the note is past due, and with interest the demand is placed at $1,300.

The plaintiff alleges that the first named defendant also negotiated a loan with the Peoples Loan and Trust Company of this city, and that a mortgage on a 35-acre farm was given as security, and the plaintiff demands that the mortgage be foreclosed in order to pay the note due the Greensburg bank, which also would satisfy the demand of the Rushville bank.

The Peoples Loan and Trust Company has been named commissioners to assume charge of real estate involved in the estate of Michael Oneal, deceased, over which litigation involving the heirs was decided in court recently.

The plaintiff in the case, Carl Oneal, was awarded judgment on special findings in the case in which Loretta Oneal, his mother, and other heirs were defendants. The evidence on the case was heard the latter part of last September, and the decision of special findings was rendered last week.

A Deplorable Situation

The problem of maintaining law and order and protecting life and property without resort to "vigilante" methods is neither a sectional problem nor one apparently near solution. The formation of a committee of 1000 in Arkansas and the lynching there of a striker accused of sabotage is the latest illustration of the task before the country.

In 13 counties in the Northeastern part of Arkansas the farmers, the merchants, the manufacturers—in fact the whole industrial population—depends upon one short railroad for transportation of outgoing commodities, incoming supplies, and passenger traffic. For two years the road has been handicapped by a strike and during practically all of that time lawless people have been burning bridges, tearing up tracks, putting every dust in engine bearings, etc. The courts and officers of the law seemed helpless in the face of the depredations. Not only was property of the railroad company destroyed, but what was worse, the products of the farmers were rendered practically valueless because they could not depend upon transportation to market.

After standing that sort of thing for two years, the citizens, mostly farmers, we are told, formed a committee of 1000 to run out of the state persons who were believed to be guilty of the destructive acts.

When a portion of the committee went to the residence of one suspect, he opened fire on the crowd, which the crowd returned, and he was taken into custody and hanged. Two other men were flogged and many others chased out of the community.

The situation is deplorable from beginning to end. It is impossible for an outsider to pass upon the merits of the controversy which resulted in a strike. Perhaps the strike was justified; perhaps not. But whether or not, destruction of property and imperiling of lives were not justified. That the people of the affected section of the state stood it for two years is a sufficient testimonial to their law-abiding character and their willingness to suffer patiently until patience ceased to be a virtue. In their final action they were unquestionably defending themselves and their homes from the destruction that would be wrought if transportation should be permanently denied them.

Whether that was the only recourse they had, is also impossible for an outsider to declare. It would seem to be within the power of officers of the law to preserve order and protect property. Why this was not accomplished in that section of Arkansas, is not explained. The culminating tragedy, a lynching without trial in legal form, is an illustration of that group action which was predicted not long ago by the Atlanta Constitution when it declared that unless duly constituted authorities preserve peace and protect property vigilante committees must take action.

This is no time to ask, "Whither are we drifting?" We are not drifting; we are rushing on, pell mell.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

PEOPLE'S SAYSO

County School Unit

In my former article, I endeavored to show the fallacy of calling the proposed law a "money saving device". I dealt mainly with those phases of the law which took away the discretion from the county board. The word "shall" is used 268 times in this bill and makes the proposed law sound more like a criminal law than a law for the improvement of our school system.

Prof. W. W. Black, who has written many articles for the press and has spoken before numerous organizations in favor of this bill deplores the inefficiency of our county Superintendents and states only 5 of the 92 in the State have had proper training for their present work, and yet this bill makes all County Superintendents executive officers of their boards and they are all eligible for reappointment at the expiration of their present terms.

If the duties under the present law are sufficient to require all of the time of the County Superintendent and one or more assistants, the proposed law would require the entire time of two or more full sized men or women and a still larger corps of assistants.

If the Superintendent is inefficient in his present position, why increase his duties and responsibilities by unloading all of the cares of the schools of the County on him. Will he be any more efficient with a more than doubled load?

All school "instructional" materials and supplies which he recommends in writing shall be purchased by the board.

I have no desire to criticize the County Superintendents as a class nor the individuals who have held that office in this County; There has been great advancement in their responsibility and duties since my term, and they have been men who have done their full duty. No County has had better officials, but it is too much to expect them to do all that is required of them in this law. They have been and of necessity must be young men, of limited business experience. Men of affairs in the business world have not kept up in educational matters, and if they have been successful in business would not aspire to the office of County Superintendent. Yet this law makes the Superintendent the sole Judge of what supplies shall be purchased for the schools. If he should select some particular article made by a certain firm, the board must purchase it, regardless of the price. He is the sole judge. Not even the State department of education may overrule his decision. I do not say the Superintendent would be influenced by the argument, flattery or corruption of the wily supply man, but it is too much to expect him with his inexperience to successfully combat all frauds that would be presented to him. This is only a small portion of his duties and yet they are thrust upon this man who Prof. Black says is too small for the job he now holds.

This officer is called County Superintendent, Secretary of the board and executive officer of the board. Aside from being the sole judge of the instructional materials and supplies, including supplementary text books, readers of both elementary and high school grade, library books, scientific apparatus, charts, maps, globes, atlases, dictionaries, encyclopedias, chalk, erasers, working papers, ink, rules, etc., which shall be bought for the schools. Here are a few of his other duties as described in the proposed law; He shall conduct all correspondence of the board, issue calls for meetings, prepare the docket or calendar for the same. Keep the minutes of the proceedings, preserve all the records of the board, receive all reports required by it, and shall perform such other secretarial duties as may be imposed by the board. He shall be the Agent through whom the board performs its duties, and he shall take the initiative in the performance of these duties; he shall enforce the school laws execute the policies of the board, advise it on technical educational matters and school finances, represent it in dealing with the public, officers of the State Department of Instruction, school directors, principals, teachers, regular school employees, and the staff of the office of the board. He shall attend all meetings of the board and of its committees except when matters concerning himself are under discussion. The County board shall on the written recommendation of the County Superintendent fix the salaries of all supervisors, principals, teachers, attendance officers, school doctors, school nurses, janitors, drivers, and of all other regular school employees.

The County Superintendent shall explain the true intent and meaning of the School laws and of the rules and regulations of the State board of education, subject to the approval in writing of the State Superintendent. He shall also decide without expense to the parties concerned, all controversies and disputes involving the rules and regulations and the administration of the public schools of the County, and his decision shall be final unless appeal is taken to the State Superintendent within thirty days.

He shall have the power to call any or all of the regular employees of the board together from time to time for conference. He shall visit the schools, conduct tests, observe the instructions, confer with principals and teachers and advise with them about their professional studies.

He shall each year determine the grade of success of all supervisors, principals, and teachers employed in the County school system, and not later than June 30th deliver a signed copy of such success grade to each supervisor, principal and teacher. He shall keep on file a permanent record of such success grades. He shall perform such duties in connection with the licensing of teachers as may be required by the State Board of Education. He shall nominate and fix the salaries of all assistants in his office.

The above is only a part of the duties as laid out in this bill for the County Superintendent. Any person qualified to perform them all would be in such demand that they could not be retained in any County office. A salary of $10000.00 per year would not pay for the service.

My objection to this feature of the bill is that it is impracticable. The provisions cannot be carried out by mere man. No individual can hope to perform the duties imposed on the County Superintendent. His duties at present require the services of a full sized man. This bill would make these duties at least three times greater.

The proponents of this bill would have us believe that it is in the interest of economy, and yet it does not dispense with a single official or employee, nor does it reduce the salary of any such, while it does provide for an increase of County officials and employees. It also provides for the expenditure of large sums of money for reports, office help, transportation charges of official and assistants, blanks, stationery and postage, and may require the purchase of automobiles and storage rooms.

It creates a school oligarchy, at a time when we have not yet recovered from a horrible war to make the world safe for democracy, and takes away the local control of the schools.

It is based on the false assumption that a County Superintendent who has had limited business experience can develop at once into a trained business man, and be competent to manage both the scholastic and business sides of the schools of the entire county.

The bill is framed on the theory that all small schools should be abolished, and the children transported to the larger schools. There is no doubt that the small high school is an expensive luxury, but if we would keep our young people on the farm, their associates and community life must be developed in the Country. No township should be retained unless it has a center of some kind where its people, young and old may meet for enjoyment and discussion of public questions, or questions affecting that particular community. Those favoring this bill cannot contend that the larger school is better for the morals of the child than the small school. The all too numerous reports in the daily papers and whispered about, are all too convincing. When the school becomes so large that the teacher and pupil do not have that chance for close personal acquaintance the pupil becomes a mere cog in the wheel, and his individual welfare receives little or no attention until he interferes with the entire machine.

This bill is so revolutionary and so full of possibilities for harm, that it should not be rushed through this session of the General Assembly. The less machinery we have in our school system, the better. Let our townships retain the right of self determination.

GAME IS PUSHED FORWARD A NIGHT

Newcastle Will Come Thursday Evening to Give Both Teams Rest for Saturday's Games

TOURNAMENT HERE SATURDAY

The basketball game with Newcastle, scheduled here for Friday night, has been pushed forward a night, making it on Thursday, in order to accommodate both teams which have games scheduled on Saturday. By playing the game on Thursday night, it will give the locals an opportunity of resting on Friday.

The game should be a hard fought one, because the two teams appeared to be evenly matched on the court at Newcastle several weeks ago, when Newcastle won out by a lone point. Shorty Morrison of Indianapolis has been assigned to referee the game, replacing Evans, who was contracted previously to be the official.

A preliminary game will be started at 7:15, and will be played with the Rushville second team and the Gings high school team.

Tickets for the invitational tournament are being sold by high school students, who are making a house to house canvass, and each school participating in the tourney has been given allotments. A record crowd is looked for and officials point out that season tickets should be bought in order to permit the holders of securing seats.

SPORT CHATTER

Boston. — Miss Leslie Baneroff, second among the American Tennis and Miss Eleanor Sears will compete in the British national championships next summer, it has been announced.

Bever Falls, Pa. — The entire student body of Geneva college has threatened to walk out tomorrow unless football and track coach Robert Park resigns. Park, who is also professor of history, was alleged to have charged certain members of the football squad with "yellowness."

Chicago. — Amateur track stars from all parts of the country were here for the annual Illinois Athletic Club track and field meet tonight. The feature will be a two mile relay race between teams from Chicago, Ames and Notre Dame.

New York. — With the sign of Fred Hamman, young Brooklyn pitcher, the Giants reached the limit of forty players. The squad includes 19 pitchers, which are as many as McGraw ever looked over in the spring.

'Hittin' 'Em and Missin' 'Em

GIVE THE FANS A CHANCE TO REST UP TOO

The game with Newcastle has been pushed up a night, and will be played here Thursday instead of Friday. That will give the Rushville players a chance to rest up one day before the county tourney on Saturday.

Newcastle also wants some rest, because they play Marion on Saturday.

BIG EIGHT IS COMING

The Big Eight of Rush County will take part in a free for all here Saturday. All eight high school teams are just about equally as confident of winning the game, and as long as they are confident, it is about half of the battle.

BOY, PAGE DR. COUE

Hittin' 'em believes that all the Rushville players need, is a little more confidence in themselves, and if they would use some of Dr. Coue's stuff on "day by day in every way, we're hittin' the basket," it would improve them a great deal.

IT WILL WORK SOMETIMES

We know from experience with John Geraghty, that he studies Dr. Coue. Every game he has his Webb team play, he tells them before hand that they can put across a win, and that confidence is what it takes to win. Generally that Webb team wins.

The thing can be overdone. Too much confidence has often times caused defeat. Don't Rushville remember "little Sandusky" in the tourney here two years ago.

MAYBE STEVE HAS SOMETHING TO SAY ABOUT THIS

Hittin' 'em nominates Dailey for the first team. Any player that can put across six goals against that Richmond team deserves a little higher place.

The drawing for positions in the county tournament will be made Thursday night just before the Newcastle game. It was planned at first to wait until 8:30 Saturday morning, but now the teams will know before hand who their opponents will be, and give them a chance to size each other up.

All the cup lacks now is the names of the players inscribed on it. When John Geraghty signed up for the tourney he told 'em that he liked block lettering, and didn't want any script. Hittin' 'em expects that any winner will be glad to take just any kind of lettering.

It is rumored that Vern Norris' glee club will furnish the music for the tournament. We all heard 'em perform Saturday night, and as near as we could figure 'em out, they consisted of Judge Sparks, Hale Pearsey and Will Norris.

WE'LL PICK GREENSBURG
Carthage is going to have a tourney February 10. High schools invited are Charlottesville, Maxwell, Westland, Fortville, Wilcox, Greensburg, Manilla and Carthage.

LOST THREE IN A ROW

A high school fan writes us as follows: "The change in line-up has so far failed to stop any team to any extent or to score a victory out of the three games that have been played since it was changed. It was thought to be much better than the other one, but hasn't proved itself to be as yet. We are still hoping though for it to do something and at the same time wondering why not change back again." All we got to say, Mr. Fan, is that when it comes to changin' line-ups, we pass that to Coach Jones.

A PERFECT RECORD
We were just wondering what has

Few Chances in Major League

(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Jan. 30.—Most of the major league managers are not satisfied over the material they have to work with next season, but the majority will start with practically the same clubs they had last year.

The two champion clubs will start the season with just about the same lineups they had in 1922.

John McGraw says he is satisfied with his world's champion Giants and the world probably will rise up and remark—"Why shouldn't he be?"

The National League champions, however, will have two newcomers—Jimmy O'Connell and Jack Bentley, who cost the club close to $200,000. What this pair will do to earn their price will be one of the features of the season.

If the Yankees succeed in getting Eddie Collins from the White Sox, they ought to be a much improved team and they will have to be to win the 1923 pennant.

Collins at second, Bib Falk in the outfield and one of the young Sox pitchers in reserve, would not make the Yanks the losers even if they have to part with Meusel, Ward and Hoyt.

With Collins at second, the Yanks would have an infield almost as good as McGraw's million-dollar combination and with Falk in the garden, the American League champs would have at least one fielder.

Jake Daubert's "decision" to retire if he doesn't get the salary that Garry Herrmann says he will not give him will force Pat Moran to make a change in his infield. The Red Leader probably will put Fonseca on first, if Daubert does not re-become of the coaches' team. So far they haven't lost a game.

Say gang, Thursday night would be a good chance to start hittin' the basket in earnest. It would be good practice for the tourney.

No player has been as much out of luck this season as Herman Phillips, captain, and center of the team. He has no trouble in tearing through the opponent's team, or in taking the ball down the line, but he can't find the right place on the bank board. Flip is a whirlwind, a hard worker and a fine player. Its not practice that he needs, its just encouragement and more confidence in his shots, and you will see 'em roll in.

SAYS FANS ARE LOYAL IN THIS OLD TOWN

"A 100 percent Rushville fan, first last and all the time," takes exception to Hittin' 'em's article about scoring the fans, and remarks as follows: "Are the fans good sports, Hittin' 'em? I'll say that Rushville fans are as loyal a bunch of fans as any in the state. You must remember that many fans can not possibly be present on Saturday night. Again, haven't they stood faithful under many disagreeable features such as waiting out in the rain for the doors to open after time, sitting on hard seats waiting the coming of the referee, paying extra for a neighboring opponents unsportsmanlike actions and putting up with unpopular referees?"

WE AGREE WITH YOU HERE

Richmond high school, with a clean slate of 16 games this year is having high hopes. Listen to what Hoosier Courtship says in the Richmond Palladium:

Somebody remarked the other day that the sentiment of Vincennes was that Richmond could not even furnish a good practice session, let alone a good game. Maybe, Vincennes could have the opportunity of booking that practice session with Richmond, here on the Coliseum floor or on some neutral court. Hoosier be-

port, and it would be a fortunate move as John McGraw thinks that Fonseca is one of the best first base prospects in baseball.

The Pittsburgh Pirates are still looking for a second baseman. Bill McKenchie would like to get Sam Bohne from Cincinnati, but after Barney Dreyfuss started the rollers under Rube Benton when Garry Herrmann had the deal closed for him, it is not likely that the Red chieftain will be inclined to do anything for the Pirate chief, unless he gets two dollars for one. The magnates will do anything under those conditions.

Tris Speaker is working so industriously with the can that the Cleveland Indians may have to step out in April with a brand new team. Tris obviously expects a lot of youngsters to make good.

Ty Cobb will have a stronger team in Detroit with Del Pratt on second base and Rip Collins on the pitching staff.

Everyone knows what kind of a good player Pratt is and Collins is just waiting for someone to force his talent out of him. Cobb may be that one.

Chances of the St. Louis Browns depend in large part of what for the pitchers shown down through the stretch. The team is no better as a whole than it was last season and no team is going to win the pennant on last year's form.

Signing of Frank "Husk" Chance as manager and the spirited bidding he made for Joe Boley and Max Bishop, two of the Baltimore stars, might be taken as an indication that Harry Frazee had decided to make a team of the Boston Red Sox, instead of a bargain counter. Boston fans will rise en masse and yell—"It's about time!"

believes that southern basketball isn't what it is talked up to be.

TO MEET AN ALL-STAR FIVE

Arlington A. C.'s to Take on Fast Bunch Thursday Night

The Arlington Athletic Club will meet an all star team Thursday, at the Arlington gym. The line-up of the all star team will be as follows: Stuart, Em-Roe, forward; Palmer, Greensburg, forward; Ruddle, Milroy, center; Lucas, Columbus, Guard; Norris, New Salem, and Osterling, Milroy, back guards.

This is the best combination that can be got together and they are going to put up a stiff game for the Arlington gang. However, any team that defeats the Arlington team will know that they have had a game.

AMUSEMENTS

Mae Murray At Princess

One of the strongest casts which has ever supported Mae Murray has been assembled for her newest Metro picture "Fascination," a story of Spanish love, being shown at the Princess today and Wednesday. This is the second of the series in which Robert Z. Leonard presents Miss Murray. The first was "Peacock Alley," presented and directed by Robert Z. Leonard for Tiffany productions.

Vincent Coleman, star of stage and screen, has the leading male role in "Fascination." Mr. Coleman was leading man in "Nice People," having been with that show from the opening until it completed its New York run.

Helen Ware, who has the part of a singer, has a long list of stage and screen successes to her credit.

Creighton Hale, one of the best known juvenile portrayals, appears as the brother of the heroine. Some of his more recent screen appearances are in "Orphans of the Storm," "Way Down East," "Women Who Wait," "Her Majesty," and "The Idol Dancer." Courtenay Foote appears as a clubman of Seville. Mr. Foote lists among his screen appearances "The Passion Flower," "The Bronze Bell," and "The Star Rover." Previous to his appearing in pictures Mr. Foote was in "Adam and Eva."

"Shame" At The Mystic

"Shame," the William Fox super-special which created a sensation

This is an announcement of importance, for the picture is conceded to be one of the biggest of the year. Its power of appeal was tested at a prominent Broadway theatre, where it drew large crowds at every performance and made a tremendous impression.

"Shame is a story of a young man, David Fielding, born in an alien land who is brought back to the family home in San Francisco as a child after his father's tragic death. He inherits his grandfather's enormous wealth and becomes head of the big Fielding shipping interests. He marries a beautiful and talented woman, and is expecting paternity. Life so far, has been kind to young Fielding.

From the country where the young shipping magnate was born comes a trader of evil reputation, who had been bailed in some of his nefarious schemes by David's father. He finds the son and in revenge tells him he is a half-east, son of William Fielding and a native woman in the far-away country. The trader threatens to tell the story unless David agrees to enter with him and his shipping facilities into a huge smuggling enterprise. David refuses indignantly, and laughs at the story of mixed blood. The thought preys upon him, however, and finally drives him to take his infant child and flee from civilization to the snow fields of Alaska. There he battles with a wolf and experiences other wild adventures. The mystery of his life is cleared in startling fashion.

members—an Englishman, Belgian, Frenchman, Italian and American, and had a staff of about seventy persons. A total organization of about 1,800 persons were under the orders of the commission.

While serving on this commission, Capt. Kiplinger executed five protocols on behalf of the reparations commission with Germany and established the procedure for the return of war loot which had to be given back by Germany under Article 238 of the Versailles treaty. Being the only lawyer on the commission, this work fell to him.

The property returned under the supervision of this commission amounted to several hundred thousand tons, with a value of over half a billion francs.

In December, 1920, Mr. Kiplinger suggested a plan to the reparations commission for the adjustment of claims of the allies against Germany on account of property taken by the Germans, which was accepted by the commission and Germany, and he was unofficially designated to look after the matter for the commission. He completed this work in 1922 before returning home. The office at Weisbaden was ordered liquidated in March of last year and Mr. Kiplinger, in closing up its affairs, was one of the last members of the sub-commission to leave his post of duty.

During 1921, all of the delivery of animals by Germany to the allies under the terms of the treaty, was under the direct supervision of the Rushville man.

While serving in this capacity during 1921 and 1922, M. Kiplinger also sat as chairman of several international commissions to arbitrate various disputes between the allies and Germany which arose over enforcement of the terms of the Treaty of Versailles.

While in Europe, in recognition of his valuable work, Mr. Kiplinger received a number of citations.

He was given the Legion of Honor by the French government September 15, 1921 as a recognition of his service as a member of the office of the reparations commission at Weisbaden.

In January, 1922 he was made an Officer of the Crown of Italy, a personal order of the king of Italy.

One month later he was made a commander of the Crown of Roumania, a personal order of the king of Roumania which was created in 1700.

In September of last year Mr. Kiplinger was made a commander of the Order of Polonia Restituta, an order of the Polish government created for the purpose of commemorating Poland's return to independence. This was in recognition for his services as chairman of the Polish-German commission settling the railroad and industrial disputes growing out of the war.

SOCIETY SHUNS BRIGHT COLORS

By HEDDA HOYT
United Press Fashion Editor
(Written for United Press)
New York, N. Y. Jan. 30—The Horseshoe ring of the Metropolitan Opera this season still glitters forth in tones of red and green. This year's shades, however, are mere fade-outs of the brighter reds and greens of last season.

Pinks range from flesh tones to apricots and corals, but never verge on the brilliant red of last year, and greens are of the soft bottle verde and dull jade variety, rather than of emerald and kelly green. White crystallized gowns are scattered here and there and there is an occasional gold gown, but there are entirely obliterated by the preponderance of greens and pinks.

The evening gowns remain sleeveless, with rounding armholes, and necklines are slightly lower than they were last season. Bodices are cut simply and are long-waisted and skirts are of the clinging type rather than bouffant.

Feather fans of enormous proportions match the gowns with which they are carried this year. Coral gowns have coral fans; flesh colored gowns have flesh toned fans, etc. There is no attempt for contrast. One the most effective fans at the Opera this season is carried by a young matron who occupies a different box each night. One always locates her by the huge fan of smoked colored ostrich, which looks exactly like a puff of smoke as it flows back and forth.

A "worm's-eye" view of the four hundred which one gets from the lower floor, assures one that the society buds have "put the skids" on bobbed hair. There are no "bobs" among them. Though we are surrounded with bobs on the lower floor, which range from the straight and stringy Greenwich Village variety to the permanently curled Fifth Avenue type, these notables will have none of them. However, every rose must have its thorn and one young miss of the upper boxes whose locks last year would have been the envy of a Fiji Islander, has taken matters into her own little hands and is wearing her dark hair clipped short like a man's and brilliantined a la Rudolph Valentino. More longnettes were focused upon her than upon the stage.

Even slippers which tie over the instep with little gold laces are made of gold and silver brocade and are worn quite generally. There is no attempt to match the shade of the gown with satin slippers this year. Saddle shaped slippers of red leather are worn now and then with silver lace frocks adding a French tone which is quite effective.

Wraps of ermine and near ermine are the rage of the season, as the all-white wrap holds preference over the colorful velvets of former seasons. Summer ermine, which received its name on account of its sunburn coloring, is used as a trimming on many of the white velvet wraps.

Hair ornaments are less elaborate than they have been for some time. Few tiaras are worn even by the older matrons and these few are extremely simple, being nothing more than narrow bandeaux which are worn low over the forehead. Sheer silver lace wrapped about the head conceals many a last year's bobbed head.

Local Store Observes Its Sixteenth Birthday

The O. P. C. H. is celebrating its sixteenth birthday this week. Along back in 1903, Jack Knecht, the present proprietor, started in the clothing business, at that time working as a clerk for the Silverberg Clothing Co. The Silverberg firm retired from business February 1, 1907 and Mr. Knecht, at the age of 21, took over the business with J. W. Parker and his brothers as partners. Mr. Parker retired in a few years and on Feb. 1, 1921, Mr. Knecht became sole proprietor, taking over his brothers' interests. The store was started with the motto, O. P. C. H. (One Price Clothing House) to which the proprietors have always clung.

MAY EXTEND OPEN SEASON FOR DUCKS

Twenty Two States Now Have Same Federal Open Seasons Regulating Shooting as Indiana

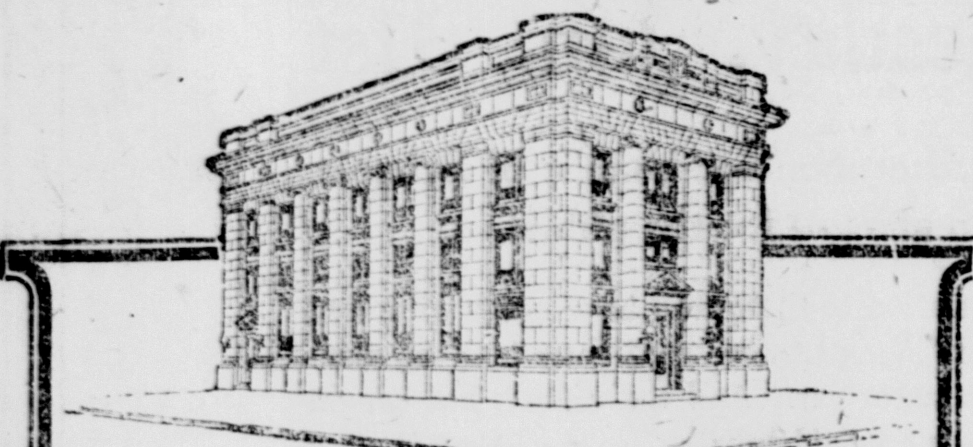

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 30—Federal migratory regulations will not permit shooting wild ducks and geese in the spring, although federal officials are willing to extend the season fifteen days from the present regulation, according to George N. Mannfeld, chief of the fish and game division of the state conservation commission, who is cooperating with officials in Washington to this end.

Recently Mr. Mannfeld was notified that if a sufficient number of sportsmen of Indiana wished the season extended, and would write the conservation department to that effect, federal authorities would act favorably on the recommendation. It was made plain at that time that the only change possible was a fifteen day extension of the open shooting period, and this would be taken off the opening date. In other words the regulation now makes it lawful to shoot wild ducks and geese from September 16 to and including December 31. The proposed change would open the lawful shooting season on October 1 and close it on January 16.

According to Mannfeld twenty-two states now have the same federal open seasons regulating the shooting similar to Indiana. In the southern states the last day for

TEMPLE OF MITRA EXCAVATED

KEYSTONE VIEW CO., NEW YORK
RUINS OF ROMAN CITY DISCOVERED ALONG DANUBE RIVER

The excavated Temple of Mitra, which Hungarian scientists claim belongs to the once well known Roman city called Aquinon. Only a mass of ruins now remains of past splendor, and excavations being made tell vividly the story held intact for centuries. Aquinon, on the Danube River, is near the Hungarian capital of Budapest. Over a thousand years ago the Magyars reached that river from the East and there established their capital "Buda". It was near there that the Roman city, a place of flourishing civilization existed until buried by some upheaval. Hungarian scientists are working feverishly now that some clues have been discovered and it will not be long before the entire city is excavated.

Under the treaty act with Canada both countries have agreed to permit no shooting from March 10 to September 1, which is the mating and breeding season of these birds. Duck hunters in Indiana who wish the season changed making it lawful only to shoot from October 1 to January 15, both dates inclusive, should write Mr. Mannfeld. Letters and petitions asking for other dates are of no avail, for they will not be considered by federal officials. Letters to be effective and which will receive consideration from federal officials should ask the date in Indiana be changed to read, "birds may be shot from October 1 to January 15." Federal officials have made it plain that requests for other dates will not be considered.

Proper Dressing Held Out As Panacea For Fat Women

Chicago, Jan. 30—Proper dressing in lieu of reducing exercises was recommended for fat women today by Rauph Moni instructor in women's dress designing at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts.

"Stout ladies by dressing correctly can look thinner and prettier—this is the shortest route to happiness," declared the fashion expert.

"The fat feminine figure for sheer looks cannot compete with the well-shaped slender woman," said Moni, "but the stout woman can dress herself in such a manner that the harsh lines of her figure are made illusive to the eye and perhaps attractive."

"She should always dress in loose garments, as the form fitting clothes emphasize her body lines. The loose hung skirt and dresses will eliminate to some extent the harsh lines and make her appearance slender. Texture and color of the dress a fat woman wears also determine largely how well she appears to others."

"A fat woman should wear thin dresses, as the heavy textures give the appearance of bulkiness. She should avoid bright colors and wear the more subdued shades. Green is one exception and fat women generally appear best in this color."

Fat ladies like all others, according to Moni, should wear corsets.

"Corsets keep down the hip line and develop the bust," he said. "The best looking women are those with shapely busts and practically no hip lines. Women who abandon corsets often lose their busts and develop huge unsightly hips."

Long dresses look best on fat women, Moni declared. "There is grace in long dresses," he said.

"Dress trimmings should never appear on the hips or other conspicuous spots of the fat figure," Moni continued. "Ornaments should run perpendicular, and from the shoulders to the ankles—otherwise they accentuate the ugly parts of the stout female figure."

BUILDING BOOM SWEEPS COUNTRY

Reports From Coast To Coast Indicate Much Activity Solving The Housing Question

WILL MEAN LOWER RENTS

Peak Of High Rents Is Believed To Have Been Reached, As Building Plans Go Forward

The crest of the high rent wave has been reached.

While these are only a few instances of actual decrease of rents, a coast-to-coast building boom is in progress which will eventually result in cutting housing costs.

The statements are based on a digest of dispatches to the United Press from all parts of the country. In some cities the realtors insist the increase in population will prevent a decrease and may even justify further boosts, but for the most part the tendency is downward.

Buffalo, N. Y.—"The present building boom will no doubt affect rents, which are somewhat lower now because of the number of buildings available," according to Gaerney and Overturf, inc., realtors.

Portland, Ore.—C. G. Rohner, realtor, said large numbers of houses and flats are vacant, with rents 25 per cent lower than 18 months ago.

Chicago.—Tenants' protective league looks for lower rents when leases expire next May.

Oklahoma City.—A. F. Bond, prominent realty dealer: "The increased number of houses and apartments will force rents to continue a downward trend."

Lincoln, Neb.—House rents are decreasing, but apartments are as high as ever.

Kansas City.—Rents are 20 per cent below the war high level, with a surplus of 200 to 300 apartments. A drop next October is expected.

New Orleans.—High class apartments underwent a slight rent reduction during the last year.

Atlanta.—The chamber of commerce said rents were going down generally.

Columbus, Ohio.—The building boom has stabilized rents and if it continues rents will come down is the opinion of R. C. Swiceard, head of a big rental agency.

Other cities reported stabilization while others predicted further increases. Rents are about stationary in New York while housing is normal. No reductions are in sight in Philadelphia as the demand exceeds the supply according to the real estate board. Houston, New Orleans, Boston, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Wilkesbarre, Detroit and Albany reported no decrease in sight, while Dallas, forecast even higher prices because of high building costs.

Denver landlords said rents could not come down until building costs did. Starting work on a $10,000,000 Ford plant at St. Paul, with resultant influx of workers, bids fair to keep rents up there. High taxes and labor costs were advanced by Milwaukee landlords as reasons for not cutting. Springfield, Illinois doesn't expect reductions before next winter, but St. Louis realtors admitted the building boom if continued will bring down rents. Indianapolis saw no prospect of a decrease.

1950 COAL MINERS DIED DURING 1922

Actual Number of Accidents During Past Year Smaller But Percentage is Greater

MAJOR ACCIDENTS INCREASE

Powder Electricity and Haulage Accidents Showed a "Gratifying Reduction"

Washington, Jan. 23—Fatal accidents in coal mines, in the face of a five months shut down, due to the miners strike in the summer and the added precautions taken to prevent accidents, mounted to a total of 1950 in 1922, only 23 less than the previous year, the Bureau of Mines announced today.

The actual number of accidents for 1922 was only slightly smaller, but when compared in relation to the number of millions of tons of coal produced, the total reaches a greater percentage. "Major" accidents, where five or more miners are killed increased from 5 to 13, and the death total in these from 34 to 261, the figures showed.

George S. Rice, chief mining engineer, of the Bureau of Mines, said that "suggestions as to the proper precautions made by the Bureau and followed by the mine owners, seem not to abate the number of accidents," due to carelessness on the part of miners.

"Due to the natural inclinations of the miners, who are paid on a piece basis, to make as much as possible and waste as little time as possible in placing props under overhead obstructions, or in taking them out altogether," Rice stated, "little, if any, improvement has been shown in the records for the past several years in the number of accidents from this cause. The past year showed 786 deaths from falling rocks and coal."

Powder, electricity and haulage accidents showed a "gratifying reduction" in the past year, Rice stated. Only 1,091 deaths per million tons mined were caused from these three classes of accidents during the year.

COW WAS PART GOAT

Kendalville, Ind., Jan. 30—George Dow owned a cow with wonderful digestive organs and quantity of producing high grade milk. Recently the animal began losing weight and then quit giving milk and finally died.

A post mortem on the cow's stomach today by a veterinarian revealed several nails, and four pieces of bailing wire. One piece of wire protruded through the stomach into the lung. The contents of the stomach worked through the channel made by the wire, forming a sack in the left lung, which gradually expanded until it filled the entire left lung.

MOVIES ARE INSULT TO HUMAN INTELLIGENCE

INTERVIEWED AT HIS HOTEL

New York, Jan. 30—"Seventy-five per cent of the motion pictures shown today are a brazen insult to human intelligence. This is because the trusts are purchasing pictures as a matter of industry—not art—and are employing factory methods."

This is the answer of Rodolph Valentino, champion Shiek, to the question, "What's the matter with the movie?"

Valentino was interviewed at his hotel here where he is residing while temporarily out of films due to dispute with his producers.

"There are a few conscientious independent stars and producers such as D. W. Griffith, Doug and Mary, and Charlie Chaplin, who realize that pictures come in the field of art—or should," said Valentino.

"The rest are a menace, trying to monopolize the theatres and commercialize art."

"The exhibitors are not to blame. In order to get a few really good pictures they are forced to sign up with the trusts for an entire year's output of eighty pictures and from thirty to thirty-five per cent are absolutely unusable."

EVERYTHING SET FOR ANNUAL SHOW

Preparations Complete for Display of Corn and Awarding of $385 in Cash Prizes

ON THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Charles E. Watkins of Muncie and Charles J. Patterson of Tipton to Speak Second Day

Preparations have been completed for the annual Rush county corn show which will be held in the court house Thursday and Friday of this week, when cash prizes aggregating, $385, and three silver cups valued at $80, will be awarded as prizes.

C. E. Troyer of LaFontaine, Wabash county, Indiana corn king two years ago, will pass on the corn entered in the competition and place the ribbons.

A well balanced program has also been prepared, including addresses
by Charles J. Patterson of Tipton and Charles E. Watkins of Muncie.
Both are well known to Rush county farmers, having spoken at public meetings in this county on other occasions.

Mr. Patterson will speak on the morning program, which begins at ten o'clock, and Mr. Watkins will be the speaker at the afternoon program, which will start at one o'clock.
Musical and other entertaining features are being prepared for the morning and afternoon meetings, on Friday, which will be held in the court house assembly room.

The first day will be devoted to the inspection and judging of the corn. The rules provide that corn contesting for any of the prizes must be in place by ten o'clock on the morning of the first day.

There will be four classes in the show this year, instead of three,
the professional class having been added, which opens competition to any corn grower. Corn raisers from outside the county have been excluded in the past, but the promoters of the show were unanimous in the view that Rush county farmers should not fear outside competition and should test their product with the best that is grown.

The cash prizes in the professional class amount to $81.00, the class being divided into three sections—$30 in the division for ten ears of yellow corn, $30 in the division for ten ears of white corn and $21 in the single ear class, any color.

The county class, offering $114.00
in cash prizes, is divided into six classes, two for yellow corn, two for white and two for mixed, with each of these subdivided for the ten-ear and the single ear display.

Two sweepstakes silver cups are offered in this class, both of which are competed for annually. The $50.- 00 cup goes to the farmer showing the best ten ears of any color and the $25.00 cup goes to the farmer producing the best single ear, any color, in the county.

Certain restrictions are thrown about the exhibitors in the township classes, one of which is that no farmer who has won a first prize in previous county shows will be eligible to compete. For each township, $10.00 in cash prizes will be awarded, for ten ears, any color, and a single ear, any color.

The junior classes will be open to boys and girls of Rush county under eighteen years of age and are divided into three sections—ten ears of yellow, ten ears of white and single ear, any color. The prizes in these classes amount to $80.00. In addition there was added this year a $15 cup as a sweepstakes prize, to be competed for annually, which will be
color.

TRUCKMEN FAIL TO ORDER STOCK FED

Rush County Farm Bureau Gets Report on Neglect of Men Who Haul Animals to Indianapolis

METHOD THAT IS FOLLOWED

Truckman's Responsibility Consists in Delivering Stock to Firm Designated by Owner

The local farmers association has received reports from other sections of the state to the effect that some truck drivers are failing to order stock fed in the truck department of the Indianapolis yards, especially when the shipment is consigned to farmers cooperative commission firm.

It is not known whether there has been cases of this kind in this county, but the farmers organization points out that in the truck division no hogs are fed unless a feeding order is given by the driver. When the truck driver delivers a truck of stock to the Indianapolis market, he has the responsibility of consigning the shipment to the firm designated by the owner of the stock, then he must sign his name on the bill and personally indicate on a blank whether or not the stock is to be fed.

These memorandum sheets are signed in triplicate, one copy being retained by the driver, one going to the commission firm to which the stock is consigned and the other to the stock yards company. The Producers commission firm keeps these on file, so that any farmer who orders the driver to give feeding instructions and finds later that his stock was not fed can go to these files and find out whether or not the driver gave a feeding order.

An official of the farmers' organization stated today that the farmer was of the opinion that he furnished the business of the truckmen and that it was up to the truck driver to carry out the instructions of the farmer as to where the stock is to be consigned and in regard to the matter of feeding.

MAKE SURVEY OF SOY BEAN CROP

Indications Are That Rush County Will at Least Maintain its Present Acreage This Year

TO SOW MORE BEANS AND CORN

Looks as if Farmer Will Have to Turn to Soy Beans for Home-grown Protein to Raise Hogs

A preliminary survey of the soy bean situation in the county indicates that Rush county will at least maintain its present acreage of soy beans this year, with a likely increase in acreage of beans planted with corn. Reports have been received from 24 farmers who grew soy beans last year and these reports show that these farmers are sticking to the crop and will plant a total of 186 acres of beans alone, compared with 187 acres last year, with a loss of only one acre. Acreage of beans with corn on the twenty-four farms shows a net gain of 169 acres, with a total acreage of the companion crop of 501 acres.

None of the men reporting will go back on beans entirely, and only two who planted beans alone last year are not doing so this year. One of these men says that he will not try them alone as a grain crop because of the difficulty of getting them threshed, and the other man is dropping out on account of encountering trouble with weeds in his beans which were drilled solid.

A number of farmers who grew beans last year for the first time, and drilled the crop solid, had trouble with weeds. Farmers who are experienced in the growing of this crop say that the weed problem can be solved by cultivation. A great number gave no cultivation whatever to their beans, and in cases where the soil was naturally foul with weeds, trouble with weeds was experienced.

It seems that farmers have been too "chicken hearted" in handling the cultivation, for experienced bean growers say that it is hard to damage the crop after it gets up and produces two or three leaves, by vigorous cultivation, and they recommend harrowing with a spike-tooth harrow or cultivation with a rotary hoe. Two or three cultivations are usually sufficient to keep weeds under control until the crop gets up so as to crowd the weeds out.

It is true that some difficulty was experienced last year in some localities in getting the crop threshed, but some farmers are of the opinion that the crop has come to stay and that eventually this difficulty will be overcome as acreage increases.

One of the mistakes made in handling the crop last year was waiting until the crop was too far matured before cutting. This caused the shattering out of some of the beans and also resulted in more difficulty in cutting, because the stocks became hard and dry. If the majority of the beans in the county had been cut ten days or two weeks earlier last year, less difficulty along this line would have been experienced.

With the price of tankage and other high protein supplemental feeds sky high and with little hope of prices declining materially, especially tankage prices, it looks as if the Rush county farmer is going to have to turn to soy beans for home-grown protein if he is going to grow hogs economically. The more hogs raised, the greater is going to be the demand for tankage, so the price of this feed is bound to remain high.
At the present time there is enough tankage, fish meal and milk produced to feed out only approximately one-third of the hogs raised. What are the farmers who grow the other two-thirds going to do for a protein feed to feed with their corn?

It cannot be denied that there is a place for the soy bean on many farms of the county. This is true not from theory, but because good farmers have found it to be a fact. Good reports are coming into the farm bureau office from farmers who are feeding beans in place of tankage, especially where the mineral mixture is fed in combination with the beans.

FARM EXHIBIT IS TO BE HELD SOON

Mid-Winter Exposition For Indiana
Farmers Will Be Given February 19-24 At Indianapolis

IN STATE FAIR BUILDING

Purpose Is To Bring Closer Relations Between Producer Of Raw Material And Manufacturer

A mid-winter exposition for Indiana farmers, sponsored jointly by the Indiana State Board of Agriculture and the Indiana Federation of Farmers' Association will be held ground February 19-24. The announcement is made by William M.
Jones of Fairmount, treasurer of the Indiana state board of agriculture.

The manufacturers' building will be transformed into a typical farm scene with a farmhouse built in the center of the exhibition hall. About 37,000 square feet of exhibition space will be occupied by leading manufacturers throughout the entire country. Educational exhibits that have to do with practical home decoration; tractor schools of instruction; demonstrations by seed experts and the display of farming implements and equipment of every kind will go to make up the exhibit,
Mr. Jones said.

"The exposition has been planned,"
Mr. Jones said, "to bring into closer contact the producer of raw materials and the persons who manufacture them and to promote a better understanding of the readjustment of prices recently made by the industries that produce the actual necessities for the farmer not only in his agricultural business but in his home. Many of the exhibitors will demonstrate more economical and better methods of farm equipment."

"This is the time when the farmers are getting ready to make their purchases whether they be implements, fertilizers, stock feeds, disinfectants or other various and sundry articles used about the farm.
The manufacturers are planning their year's sales. We believe that the present exposition will aid the farmer to formulate his ideas as to what he is going to need, and will aid the manufacturer in learning the real requirements of farm people."

The committee in charge of arrangements for the exposition includes all members of the Indiana state board of agriculture among whom are Thomas Grant, of Lowell, Indiana, president of the board; S.
W. Taylor, Boonville, vice-president, and I. Newt. Brown, Franklin, secretary, and William H. Settle of Petroleum, Lebanon, and Perry H.
Crane of Lebanon, general secretary of the farmer's federation.

Throughout the week musical entertainment will be provided for all visitors both afternoon and evening.
Mr. Jones said, and all farmers and their wives will be admitted free.
Tickets of admission may be obtained from the board of agriculture by every farmers' organization in the state, by every county agent or fair association.

"While the responsibility of the farmers' exposition lies with the Indiana state board of agriculture,
the Indiana Federation of farmers' associations is anxious to bring to the attention of its membership the importance of such an exposition," Mr. Crane said. "We are all interested in new appliances and if we continue to farm there are certain things we must continue to buy.
Through this exhibit we can see farming apparatus and implements designed to give the services required in the most efficient manner."
Mr. Crane said that a news letter calling attention to the exposition and the manner of obtaining tickets will be sent to each of the 900 township organizations in the state and in this manner at least 100,000 farmers will be made acquainted with the exposition plans.

DOZEN OR MORE SIGN IN TON-LITTER CLUB

By End of Week, it is Expected Enrollment Will Reach at Least 25 or 30 Members

SATURDAY WILL BE LAST DAY

A dozen or more Rush County farmers have already signed up as contestants in the Ton-litter Club, and by the end of the present week it is expected that the number enrolled will reach 25 or 30 members.

This project is conducted under the auspices of the Indiana Livestock Breeders Association, cooperating with local agencies and the county agent's office. The state organization awards a gold medal to the member who succeeds in producing a 2000-pound litter at the age of six months, a silver medal for an 1800-pound litter, and for a 1600-pound litter a bronze medal.

Besides the medals there will be a special county trophy, in the form of a silver cup, awarded to the member who produces the greatest amount of pork per sow. This handsome cup will be well worth going after and is bound to add to the interest and keenness of the competition.

The ton-litter work is in harmony with the swine extension work which will be carried on in the county this season, the main phase of which is along the line of management of the brood sow and litter to reduce loss of young pigs. In this connection a number of demonstrations in swine sanitation are being carried out, the details of which will be announced later.

Saturday of this week is the last day on which members can enroll in the ton-litter club. The county agent will be glad to furnish information regarding the work to those interested.

INDIANA FARMS GO ON SHARE BASIS

Renting For Cash Method That Is Rapidly Disappearing, Agricultural Survey Shows

BOONE COUNTY AN EXAMPLE

Much Of 'Pressimism Among Indiana
Farmers That Prevailed 18 Months Ago Has Gone

Rapid change from a cash-rent to a share basis of operating farms has occurred in central Indiana during the last two years, a recent survey made by the United States Department of Agriculture shows. In Clinton County 87 farms were reported as renting for cash in 1920, but this method of renting has practically disappeared since that time. A decrease of about 50 per cent in the number of cash-rented farms is reported in Boone County where 340 cash-rented farms were reported in 1920.

Many tenants who had contracted to pay large cash rents in 1920 and 1921 have lost everything, including their farming equipment and personal property, the survey shows. Cash rents in this section which varied from $10 to $12 or more per acre in 1919 have been reduced to $7 to $10 per acre, but despite this reduction tenants who rent for cash have found it almost impossible to ob-
rent expenses to pay their rent. On the other hand, after tax and repair bills are paid, the landlord does not have a very satisfactory return for the use of his farm.

The survey shows that approximately 150 farms in the two counties were transferred in 1922 as compared with the sale of more than 500 of the 5,400 farms in the two counties in 1919. Many purchasers of farms during the period of the land boom have been forced to return the farms to their former owners, thereby sacrificing their cash payments, the department says. The more hopeful cases have been adjusted through extensions of time for paying indebtedness but there are many farmers who are still in a more favorable condition at this time than for several years.

INCREASE IN HOGS ON INDIANA FARMS

Fifteen Percent More Swine Than Year Ago, Cooperative Reporting Service Shows

SHEEP AND CATTLE GAIN

Number of Horses Decreases One Percent But no Change is Noted in Number of Mules

An increase of 15 percent or 535,- 000 head is shown in the number of hogs on Indiana farms January 1, 1923, compared with the same date last year, according to the report of the cooperative crop reporting service, issued today. Sheep show a gain of 7 percent and cattle show 2 percent. Horses show a loss of 1 percent and the number of mules remain the same. The report follows:—

The number of horses of Indiana farms decreased 1 percent during the past year, but there was no appreciable change in the number of mules January 1, 1923, compared with a year ago. The estimate for horses is 696,000 head and for mules 101,000 head. Fewer horse colts were foaled in 1922 than for many years, but there seemed to be a slight increase in the number of mule colts. Automobiles, trucks and tractors continue to supplant horses and mules on farms to a great extent, making them a very unprofitable product as a selling proposition, for prices are still on the downward trend.

The estimated value of all horses in Indiana is approximately $51,- 504,000 compared with $57,000,000 for last year. For mules the value this year is $7,777,000 compared with $8,400,000 last year.

An increase of 2 percent is shown in the number of milk cows on Indiana farms, January 1, this year, the estimated number being 742,000
compared with 727,000 January 1, 1922. The quality of this class of livestock is also improving. Indiana is now the leading State in the number of accredited herds of tubercular tested cattle.

The average price of milk cows for the State, January 1, was $53.00 per head and this is the same as last year. The total value of all cows and heifers kept for milking purposes is estimated to be $69,326,000 compared with $38,500,000 last year.

The average number of days milked during 1922 for each cow is estimated at 300, the same as the preceding year, but the quantity of milk per day for each cow was slightly lower.

The number of all other cattle
January 1, 1923 was 2 percent greater than the same date last year, and includes all cattle and calves except cows and heifers kept for dairy purposes. The total number is estimated to be 794,000 head and the total value $25,726,000 compared with 778,000 head and a total value of $25,600,000 January 1, 1922.
Feeding operations at this time are somewhat more extensive than a year ago, although there is slight difference in the value per head. The demand is better, however, and conditions are much more favorable than for several years.

The number of sheep on Indiana farms increased 7 percent over January 1, 1922, the estimate being 648,000 compared with 606,000 a year ago. While feeding operations are considerably less this year than last the number of breeding ewes has increased very materially. The price also is considerably higher per head and the total value this year is estimated at $5,184,000 compared with $3,151,000 last year. The demand for good stock is quite brisk and the industry is in a more favorable condition at this time than for several years.

The increase in the number of swine on Indiana farms amounted to 15 percent over January 1, 1922 and is due principally to saving a larger number of pigs per litter during 1922 than usual, although quite an increase in the number of brood sows was shown last spring. The total number of hogs, all ages, is estimated to be 4,102,000 and the total value $48,814,000 this year compared with $44,814,000 last year.

LAYING PULLETS NEED ABUNDANCE OF GRAIN

Laying pullets need an abundance of grain in cold weather to keep the body warm and maintain the small surplus of fat needed by all good layers, states Professor A. G. Phillips of the Purdue University Poultry Department.

A higher percentage of grain should be fed from October to January, slightly less from January to March and a normal ration in the spring. This enables pullets to keep up the body weight and still produce eggs. Most pullets that were early hatched properly matured and ready to lay in the winter fell down on the job when cold weather hit them, because they were too thin.

Poultrymen have learned to feed mash during the last few years but it must not be depended upon as much in the winter as the summer. Most pullets suffer in winter from too little grain in proportion to the mash, rather than too much. Full details for feeding laying hens are given in Purdue Experiment Station Bulletin No. 101.

RATE COMPLAINTS TO BE ARBITRATED

Livestock Producers Submit Rate Difficulties to Agricultural Department for Adjustment

TWO ARBITRATORS NAMED

G. N. Dagger and Howard M. Gore to Make Recommendations Which Will be Agreed to and Followed

The complaint of unjust, unreasonable and discriminatory commission charges filed before the Packers and Stockyards Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture by various live-stock producers' organizations against the commission market agencies, members of live-stock exchanges, at a number of the large central markets is to be handled by arbitration instead of the usual formal hearings. This informal or referee method has been approved by the Secretary of Agriculture, and G. N. Dagger and Howard M. Gore of the Packers and Stockyards Administration will act as arbitrators to study the situation and make recommendations which the representatives of the producers and the live-stock exchanges have agreed to accept and follow out.

The producers' organizations' filed the complaint July 25, 1922, but before dates for formal hearings were set the patrons and commission men at the several markets began to negotiate for some plan for friendly settlement. Stipulations were soon drawn up, and so far agreements have been signed by the producers, and the commission agencies at Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul, and Chicago. It is expected that similar stipulations will be signed soon by the agencies at Ft. Worth, Texas, and Portland, Oregon, and the producers.

This friendly method of ironing out differences that have arisen between the live-stock producers and live-stock exchanges is pleasing to Secretary Wallace, who says that it was the intention of Congress that such matters be disposed of in this way whenever possible, as was made plain by the statement of the Committee on Agriculture of the House in reporting out the Packers and Stockyards bill, when it said that "it is believed that the mere existence of a Federal law on the subject will in most cases make it possible for the Secretary through a representative, to adjust the complaints of shippers and purchasers, without the necessity of resorting to the formal procedure contained in this title of the bill."

"The action of the live-stock exchanges at Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City, and St. Paul in submitting their charges to two arbitrators that are connected with the Packers and Stockyards Administration is extremely gratifying," said the Secretary. "In so doing they have waived their right of appeal and review by the courts given the mby the statute. This manifestation of faith in the personnel of the Department of Agriculture shows that the new control act is being administered in a constructive way. The livestock exchanges have fearlessly cast aside their legal rights and propose to allow two men not connected with the commission business to fix their rates and charges on any basis which to the arbitrators may be deemed just and proper."

By this informal procedure it is expected that satisfactory adjustments will be obtained and that at the same time harmony and goodwill be preserved among the various parts of the live-stock industry. The arbitrators have stated that a full opportunity will be given to all interested parties to be heard in an informal public hearing, the time of which will be announced later. At the same time they will make a thorough investigation and endeavor to secure all material facts bearing upon the character of the service rendered by the commission man and the cost as well as the value of rendering that service.

The complaint against the commission agencies was made by the American National Livestock Association, the National Wood Growers' Association, and 13 other live-stock producers' organizations.

DAIRY COURSE TO CLOSE ON MARCH 9

Purdue Course is Planned to Meet Needs and Suit Convenience of Busy Creamery Operator

Laboratory Practice in Butter and Ice Cream Making are Carried on in University Laboratories

The Purdue University Winter course in Dairy Manufacturing commenced last week and will continue until March 9. This course of eight weeks is planned to meet the needs and suit the convenience of the busy creamery operator and helper and is useful to men who wish to take up Dairy Manufacturing work or men who have had Creamery and Ice Cream or City Milk Plant experience in assisting them in filling positions requiring more responsibility than those they are now holding. The work is very practical and is outlined so that the student may get the greatest benefit from his work at the University in this short time. A large part of the theoretical work is eliminated and a great deal of emphasis is placed on the practical side in Dairy Manufacturing. There has always been a shortage of trained men for positions which have been open in Dairy Manufacturing work.

The course is given during the slack season of the Dairy Manufacturing plants and is finished early enough to allow the student time to secure employment during the busy season of the year when men with this kind of training are in greatest demand.

Laboratory practice in butter and ice cream making are carried on in the University Creamery and other laboratories of the department. The Purdue Creamery is operated on a commercial basis the year round and is amply equipped for giving this kind of instruction. The following subjects are taken up in the course:

- (1) Creamery buttermaking and Factory Management. Four lectures and eight laboratory hours per week.
- (2) Farm Dairying. Two lectures and three laboratory hours per week.
- (3) Creamery Machinery and Repairs. Two lectures and three laboratory hours per week.
- (4) Ice Cream Making. Two lectures and three laboratory hours per week.
- (5) Testing Milk and Its Products. Two lectures and four laboratory hours per week.
- (6) Market - Milk and Cheese. Three lecture hours per week.
- (7) Dairy Bacteriology. Two lecture hours per week.

All applicants for this winter course must be at least eighteen years of age and should have had a common school education. A High school course is not required.

The total cost of the course should not exceed $130 and this includes room, board, books and other incidental expenses.

For additional information, address Dean J. H. Skinner of the Purdue School of Agriculture, Lafayette, Indiana.

Fer Hogs you never seen the like, Rush county has the whole world beat.

They work long days and never strike,

An' all they want is what they eat. And when the farmer needs some dough

Hogs are the ones that pull him through.

An' ever time you go to town Can't count the loads, you pass around.

They pay his bills from day to day And never have a word to say.

Rush county hogs are good to see, I'm as satisfied as I can be.

The Big Type, Poland China Swine Fer Rush county farms—they fill the bill;

They leave all other Breeds, behin' The American hog, without a frill.

STATE BEE LAWS ARE RECOGNIZED

Recently Illinois Legislature Asked
Beekeepers of That State to Adopt
Laws Similar to Indiana's

HAVE REDUCED FOULBROOD

Indiana Produces Six Million Pounds
of Honey Annually and Production Probably Will be Doubled

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 18—Indiana's beekeeping laws are rapidly gaining favorable recognition over the entire nation.

Recently the Illinois legislature was asked by the beekeepers of that state to adopt laws similar to Indiana, and today Frank N. Wallace, entomologist in the Indiana conservation department, was requested by Ray H. Dunbar, of Chamberlain, S. D. for copies of Indiana bee laws which he proposes to present to the South Dakota legislature with a request that similar legislation be enacted.

Mr. Dunbar writes that he is president of the South Dakota beekeepers association. He is obtaining copies of laws of states where beekeeping has made notable progress. Indiana was selected, he says because of our comprehensive legislation on the subject.

It is interesting to note, says Wallace, that under the Indiana system of inspection, bee diseases have not only been controlled, but that foulbrood, the most vicious form of disease derogative to the industry, has been reduced from 20 percent ten years ago to 4 percent in 1922. Honey production has greatly increased both by reason that colonies unaffected with diseases yield bigger returns, and cognizant that competent laws and an energetic field force constantly guard their interests, apiarists increased colony holdings. Today Indiana produces six million pounds of honey annually, and beekeepers are confident that in the next few years production will be doubled.

ers who own such a small equity in their farms that they may eventually be forced to sell. A number of purchasers have been able to transfer their indebtedness from private banks or loan companies to the Federal Land Banks or Federal Farm Loan Associations. This will enable them to spread out the burden over a number of years. Large initial payments are required in order to make this possible.

There has been no well established land mark in central Indiana for almost three years, foreclosures, sheriff sales, and the settlement of estates constituting the larger part of the farm land sales. Land prices have been very erratic and furnishes little and inconclusive data concerning the probable level at which farm land values will become settled under present economic conditions. Land which sold for $175 to $250 per acre in 1919 and 1920 is now selling for $125 to $175 per acre.

At the time when prices of agricultural products and of farm lands were declining most rapidly, taxes were being increased. Taxes on farm lands in Clinton County were increased from $1.42 per acre in 1919 to $1.84 per acre in 1922. There was a similar increase in Boone county during this period. Taxes were highest in this section in 1921 and 1922 which were years of comparatively low returns to farmers. The increases in taxes varied in different townships and were due primarily to increased levies for local purposes over which the farmers themselves have to exercise control.

"But despite these conditions," the department says, "much of the pessimism of 18 months ago has disappeared. The 1922 corn crop was about an average crop and of very good quality whereas there was much low grade and rotten corn in central Indiana in 1921. The fall weather of 1922 was very favorable to the gathering and marketing of the crop. The prices of both corn and hogs are higher than they were in the fall of 1921. At the same time by the strict economy forced upon them the farmers have been able to reduce still further production costs of their products."

"The 1922 wheat crop in this area was somewhat below normal. Oats were very poor in 1921 and practically a failure in 1922. Rye has never been an important crop in these counties, but the acreage devoted to rye seems to be gradually increasing at the expense of the wheat and oats acreage. There appears to be a slight shift from oats to wheat or rye for the coming year as a result of the two successive failures with oats. These shifts are mostly temporary and confined to rather definite limits. Cattle feeding has never been an important enterprise on the farms of this area, but it is even less important at the present time."

RIGGS ENTERS GOLD MEDAL SHEEP CLUB

Prominent Sullivan County Sheep Producer Will Try to Have His Flock in Hoosier Classic

EARLY LAMB SAVES LOSS

Gold Medal Sheep Club is Being Started by Indiana Livestock
Men and Purdue University

"My flock is going to be a gold medal flock," said James Riggs, a prominent Sullivan County sheep producer and chairman of the Indiana Federation of Farmer's Association Legislative committee. "The early lamb always catches the good market and you can count me a member of the Hoosier Gold Medal Sheep Club. At the present time I have a flock of Oregon ewes. They have been on my farm for four years and they have made money each year. Even in 1921 when most people lost money on their sheep these ewes were a good investment for me. They did not make as much money in 1921 as during some other years, neither did they lose money."

"It was the early lamb that saved me a loss. The 156 ewes raised me 210 lambs to market age. The lambs were born in January and put on the market early in May at 12½¢ per pound. The ewes sheared on the average of 10 pounds of wool per head and I had several ewes that sheared 12 to 15 pounds. I put my 1920 wool clip on the market at 25¢ per pound and my 1921 wool clip did nearly as well. The early lamb is the best market lamb for Indiana farmers."

The Gold Medal Sheep club is being started by the Indiana Livestock Breeders' Association and the Agricultural Extension department of Purdue University. Gold medals will be given those who make their lambs reach 80 pounds by July 1.

SHOULD OBSERVE "FLY-FREE" DATE

Each Year Farmers Of Country Suffer
A Heavy Loss Due To The

TWO GENERATIONS A YEAR

Fly Free Dates For Indiana Range
From Sept. 20 On Extreme North
To Oct. 5 In "Pocket" Region

In this part of the United States the Hessian Fly is undoubtedly the wheat growers' most serious pest. Each year the farmers of this country suffer a loss due to the ravages of this insect aggregating millions of dollars. This loss enormous as it is, could be very materially reduced if not entirely prevented if the farmers would observe the "fly free" sowing date, says Prof. W. A. Price of Purdue University.

Life history studies have revealed the fact that there are two generations per year—one coming in the spring and the other in the fall. The adults producing the fall brood emerge for the most part in September and October—the exact time depending upon the latitude and climatic conditions. Eggs are laid within a few days after the adult flies appear and if there are no wheat plants available for egg laying, deposition is made on other plants or on the ground—in either case the wheat does not suffer. By sowing wheat at such time as to have it appear above ground within a day or two after the eggs have been deposited, the farmer will have observed the "fly free" date, and in so doing will have made a most important move in the direction of the elimination of this enormous annual loss.

The past year was not a serious fly year in this section yet there is at this time plenty of fly in the state especially in the sections where the sowing dates were not universally observed. Cooperation among the farmers of the state in the observance of the sowing dates, would eliminate these spotted infected areas, leaving a uniformly low infestation or none at all.

The fly-free dates for Indiana range from September 20 on the extreme north to Oct. 5, in "the Pocket" region.

MAY RAISE MORE PIGS IN SPRING

Sows Bred to Farrow During 1923 Will be 13 Percent More Than Number in 1922

DEPENDS ON HOG PRICES

Agriculture Department Received For Report More Than 200,000 Replies to Questionnaires

The number of sows bred to farrow during the first six months of 1923 will be 13 percent more than the number of sows which actually farrowed in the spring of 1922, provided farmers carry out their intentions as indicated in the December 1, 1922, pig survey made by the United States Department of Agriculture. For the 11 Corn Belt states the survey shows an intention to breed 15.6 per cent more sows than a year ago. Most of the Southern States show an actual decrease in prospect for 1923. The probable increase in farrowings in the spring of 1923 over 1922 compares with an increase of 22.8 per cent in the spring of 1922 over 1921 in the 11 Corn Belt states. The spring pig crop of 1922 in the Southern States was about the same as in 1921. Comparisons for other states are not available.

Whether or not the expressed intentions of farmers with regard to the number of sows to be bred to farrow next spring will be carried out will depend largely on the relative prices of hogs and corn, the Department says.

An actual increase of 16 percent in the number of spring pigs in 1922 over 1921 is shown in the December survey as compared with the estimated increase of 14.5 percent shown in the May survey. The number of pigs saved per litter up to July 1, 1922, in the Corn Belt states is placed at 5.8 as compared with 5.7 saved up to May 1. This increase in number of pigs saved accounts for the revised estimate in the number of spring pigs in 1922, the department says.

The number of litters farrowed in the United States in the fall of 1922

shows an increase of 18.6 per cent over the fall of 1921. An increase of 27.8 percent is shown for the 11 Corn Belt states as compared with an intended increase in these states of 49 percent in the number of sows to be bred for fall farrowing, as reported last May. The survey shows that in the Corn Belt states 6.1 pigs per litter were saved in the fall of 1922 as compared with 5.9 pigs saved from the 1921 fall litters. For the entire United States a saving of 6.1 pigs per litter in the fall of 1922 as compared with 6 pigs per litter in 1921 is shown.

The decrease in actual number of pigs last fall as compared with intentions of farmers the preceding May is attributed to the decline in hog prices, increased corn prices, increased losses from hog cholera and other diseases, and to the publicity given the results of the spring pig survey made by the Department of Agriculture. Losses from hog cholera and other diseases in the 11 Corn Belt states for the year show an increase of 22.6 percent over losses in 1921.

The Department received for this report more than 200,000 replies to questionnaires distributed and gathered by rural mail carriers in all sections of the United States where pigs are produced for market. The survey is but the second of its kind that has been made and there has not yet been opportunity to check any differences that may exist between the figures shown for the farms reporting and those for all farms. It is pointed out, however, that the forecast made last spring of an increase of 14.5 percent in the number of spring pigs over the preceding year is being borne out by the increased volume of receipts at the principal stockyards during the past three months. The surveys also show that the production of fall pigs in proportion to spring pigs has increased materially during the past two years, thus making for a more stabilized supply of pigs throughout the year.

The department points out that increased production does not necessarily mean an over-supply or declined in prices. Total receipts of hogs at all public stockyards during the first 11 months of 1922 were 5 percent more than in 1921. During the last four months of 1922 the increase totaled nearly 20 percent. The number of hogs slaughtered under Federal inspection during the same period was 7.7 percent more than in 1921 and the total carcass weight of pork and lard resulting from this slaughter shows an increase of 461,246,000 pounds for the 11 months. Despite these increases cold storage holdings of pork and lard averaged considerably less than during 1921 and prices showed a substantial advance over 1921. The department's explanation for this situation is that improved industrial and economic conditions resulted in an increased consumptive demand and a much freer, current movement of pork and lard into trade channels.

LEONARD

Three-Fuel Range in the Kitchen

It's a beauty, and it makes a tremendous "hit" with every member of the family. For the busy housewife it means a kitchen that's delightfully cool in summer and comfortably warm and cozy in winter. It makes her cooking and baking a pleasant task and helps her keep sweet. It gives her more leisure hours for recreation and more pleasant duties, and keeps her fresh to enjoy them.

In addition to its attractive combination feature the Leonard Three-Fuel Range has the famous high oven improvement which makes a direct appeal to every woman who has felt the fatigue of constantly stooping over a low oven. The elevated oven is just the right height for convenience—and in addition, it heats more quickly, more evenly, with less fuel, than the low oven, where the heat has to be forced out of its natural course.

The Leonard Three-Fuel is a gas range with fire box for coal and wood built in one for burning trash and dry garbage and for taking the chill off the rooms in cold weather. Oven heats equally well with coal or gas—may be used at the same time, if desired, for cooking on top of stove.

Don't miss this opportunity to see the Leonard for yourself and compare it point by point with other ranges before you buy. No obligation. We'll gladly show it to you and you are to be the judge.

VALUE OF FERTILIZING UNDRAINED LAND IS PROVED IN EXPERIMENT

OBTAINS GOOD RESULTS

Untreated Land Produced 40 Bushels Per Acre While Limed and Fertilized Land Made 84.4 Bus.

By G. P. WALKER

(Purdue University Agricultural Experiment Station)

Limestone and fertilizer have increased the corn crop over 44 bushels per acre in the last two years on the undrained land of the Jennings County Experiment Field which is operated by the Agricultural Experiment Station of Purdue University. The untreated land produced 40 bushels per acre in the two crops, while the limed and fertilized land made 84.4 bushels. The limestone was used at the rate of 3 tons per acre in 1920 and the fertilizer, an 0-12-8 formula, was applied to each crop at 300 pounds per acre. The total cost of the limestone and fertilizer used has been a little less than $12 per acre for the two crops. The corn was sold at 55 cents per bushel last year and is worth 65 this year, which makes an average price of 60 cents per bushel. 44 bushels at 60 cents gives $26.40 as the value of the increase produced by the $12 worth of limestone and fertilizer in two years. This is on undrained slash land that has only made 20 bushels per acre each year where no soil treatment had been given.

On drained land of this same type limestone alone has increased the yield of corn 9 bushels per acre each year so that $7.50 worth of limestone has in the two years, produced 18 bushels more corn worth $10.80 per acre. Experience has shown that the 3 tons of limestone applied two years ago will continue to give similar increases for 6 to 8 years. On the old experiment field east of North Vernon, $10.00 worth of limestone per acre has produced increased crops worth over $32.00 in seven years. The limed land on both fields produced a nice crop of clover hay last year, while the unlimed strips produced almost worthless tickle grass and weeds.

Fertilizer pays better on limed land than on unlimed. Fertilizer without lime has increased the corn yield 5 bushels per acre and wheat a little less than 5 bushels, but it produced no clover at all. On limed land the same fertilizer increased the corn yield 10.5 bushels per acre, wheat 6 bushels and clover hay 1/2 of a ton. 400 pounds of a 2-12-8 fertilizer on the limed land has paid $7.00 per acre more than the same fertilizer on the unlimed land.

The crops produced on the limed and fertilized land have been worth

$16.00 more per acre than from the strip which received the same fertilizer but no limestone. There has really been a greater difference because of the much better quality of grain and hay produced on the limed land.

Manure also pays better on limed land than on the unlimed. On the old experiment field manure has been applied every third year since 1912. On the strip which had limestone in 1912, the manure has increased the corn yield 25.2 bushels, wheat, 8.3 bushels and clover hay 1/2 of a ton while on the unlimed strip it has increased the corn yield 17.8 bushels, wheat 6.4 bushels, and hay 1-5 of a ton. The value of the increase produced by the manure on the limed strip has averaged almost $3.00 more per acre each year than the increase on the unlimed land.

Limestone is the one big need of most of the land in Jennings County, and with fertilizer it is the best investment that any farmer who farms the slash land can make. Not only does it increase the grain crops but it grows clover where it could not be grown before, and in that way produces a feed that is ten times better for making milk and growing young stock than the ordinary red top tickle-grass hay that is now harvested and fed on so many farms. It is giving good results on the undrained land and will help to make drainage possible. It increases the benefits to be derived from the use of fertilizer. If F. W. Potts, as county agent, can get the farmers of Jennings County to buy 500 earloads of ground limestone this year, he will be doing them the greatest service possible.

GRADING HOGS

As a live stock producer it is to your interest to keep tab on the discussions affecting your business. Many trade and agricultural papers are agitating the pushing of work establishing uniform market classes and grades of hogs for all live stock markets. Producers commission agencies realize probably more than any other marketing agency the need for establishing uniform market classes and grades. Such work is fundamental, and the evidence is all more conclusive if we reason backwards and see the shape in which we would be if there were no standard brands of shoes, clothes, farm machinery and so forth. Some agricultural journals have taken several steps farther and advocated that the grading of hogs be done by government graders, while still others propose a "fixed differential" between the various grades of hogs. Producers commission agencies are not ready at this time to endorse a movement farther than the establishing of uniform classes and grades.

NATIONAL MARKETING OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

The shippers of vegetables and fruits in Indiana will be pleased to learn that a new National fruit and Vegetable Growers Inc. has been organized and is now ready for business. This organization will have sales representatives in over 200 of the largest cities in the United States and will be grower-owned and grower-operated. It will be operated by the officials of the North American Fruit Exchange, and organization which handled about 40,000 cars of fruit this season at a great saving to the growers. The business of this exchange will be taken over by the new Fruit and Vegetable Growers Inc., starting January 1. The new organization is sponsored by the Farm Bureau Federation and is the result of the studies of their committee of 21 who have been working on the new plans for over a year.

R. E. Hanley, Supt., of the Western Division will appear before the State Vegetable Growers Association meeting at Purdue University January 10, to present the possibilities of using this organization to advantage. Shippers of vegetables and fruits can well afford to be present at this meeting.

Everything Points to the Greatest Spring Demand for Ford Products in Company's History

1,202,517 Ford Cars and Trucks were delivered to retail purchasers in the United States alone during 1922—

Actual deliveries for last month greatly exceeded any previous December in the history of the Ford Motor Company—

It was the ninth consecutive month in which more than 100,000 Ford Cars and Trucks were retailed—keeping the Ford Plants working at capacity to meet dealers' requirements—

In many parts of the country dealers are already finding it necessary to specify later delivery dates on certain types because there are no reserve stocks to draw from—Commercial users, business houses and farmers anticipating their future requirements, are placing orders and taking delivery of Ford Cars, Trucks and Fordson Tractors to insure against delay—

Everything points to the biggest shortage of Ford Products this Spring that has ever existed—

The only way you can be sure of obtaining delivery of a Ford Car, Truck or Fordson Tractor is to list your order immediately—

We have given you these facts as they actually exist so that if you are planning to purchase a Ford Car, Truck or Tractor for use this Spring or Summer, you can list your order now and take advantage of our dealer's first opportunity to deliver.

WEED CHATS WITH FARMERS

Does Wheat Turn to Cheat?
ALBERT A. HANSEN

(Purdue University Agricultural Extension Department)

Did you ever plant wheat and get a crop of cheat? Did you ever cut wheat or oats and see a patch of cheat come up where the grain was cut? Looked as though the wheat or oats turned to cheat, didn't it?

But it didn't. Wheat has as much chance of turning into cheat as a cat has of turning into a lion, because the relationship is just about as close. Wherever you find a cheat plant you can be absolutely sure that it came from cheat seed and from nothing else, although the manner in which cheat springs up where wheat should grow certainly looks mysterious.

But if the cheat grows from cheat seed, where did the cheat seed come from? Perhaps it was sown as an impurity in the seed wheat or it might have been lying in the soil, the product of cheat plants that matured seeds several years ago. Cheat seeds have the ability to lie dormant in the ground for several years, waiting for the first good opportunity to grow, and that opportunity is furnished whenever conditions are unfavorable for the wheat, as winter killing or injury from the Hessian fly. Ordinarily, cheat does not attempt to compete with wheat, since cheat is not as strong a grower. But as soon as the wheat weakens, the cheat springs up very quickly and the effect is very deceiving and might easily lead to the conclusion that the wheat has turned to cheat.

If anyone doubts that cheat comes from cheat seeds only, let him plant some wheat in a box containing soil that was secured from the woods where it is known that cheat never grew. If he can turn the wheat into cheat, then he will have accomplished a miracle that is unknown to science.

In weak stands of grain patches of cheat are sometimes harvested with the wheat from which the cheat seeds are separated with difficulty. When the cheat gets into the flour, it causes a dark color and imparts a disagreeable flavor.

It will be a surprise to many Indiana farmers to learn that cheat is a good hay plant and is cultivated for this purpose in Oregon and Georgia. The crop is planted in the fall and cut green. I know of at least one farm in Indiana where cheat is purposely grown for hay, but my personal opinion is that any small grain would do just as well and would not foul the land with seeds that might cause future trouble.

It is a mistake to allow cheat seeds to mature on the farm. A cultivated crop well tilled combined with the use of pure seed will usually drive out cheat. Cheat may be removed from seed wheat by pouring the infested wheat into a barrel of water. The heavy wheat grains sink and the light cheat seed can be skimmed off the surface. A good time to do this is when the seed wheat is immersed in a formaldehyde solution for the control of stinking smut. Both the smutted wheat grains and the cheat seeds can be skimmed off together.

Salted Almonds

Blanch the almonds by pouring boiling water over them, and remove the skins by rubbing them. For each pint of nuts melt 1 tablespoon butter in a pan, and when hot stir in the nuts. Stir constantly until they are browned sufficiently, then sprinkle with salt. Spread out on brown paper to absorb the extra fat. The nuts cook somewhat after being taken from the fire, so do not allow them to get too brown before removing them.

COOPERATION IS A BIG SUCCESS

DUE TO LONG EXPERIENCE

More Than 600 Cooperative Live Stock Shipping Associations Are In Operation At Present

By HERBERT W. LITTLE
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Madison, Wis. Jan. 30.—Wisconsin farmers are solving their marketing problems through one of the largest systems of cooperative associations in the country.

The middleman is beginning to take the count. An annual business of $60,000,000 a year, done through cooperatives, which are operating successfully in fourteen different knocking him for successive rows of knocking him successive rows of goals.

Success of the Badger cooperatives is due in a large degree to the facts that the organizations have been evolved through long development and with same state aid and supervision, and to the fact that many of the farmers of the state are of Scandinavian descent, according to Prof. B. H. Hibbard, of the agricultural economic department of the University of Wisconsin.

The Scandinavian's success are due to long experience in their mother countries, where agricultural cooperatives are a matter of governmental policy.

About 800 of the two thousand cheese factories that make up the manufacturing end of the industry in which Wisconsin produces three-fourths of the nation's supply of

cheese are cooperative, it is estimated.

More than 600 cooperatives live stock shipping associations are in operation at present, the first one in the United States having been started at Ellsworth, Wis., in 1908.

Of the 835 creameries, 380 are cooperative.

Cooperative merchantile stores have been least successful in the state, 17 out of 57 started having "failed in business."

Other branches of cooperative activity in the state are 98 feed, elevator and produce companies; 27 potato shipping organizations; 122 community breeders' associations 214 mutual insurance companies; about 480 mutual telephone companies; 6 tobacco marketing organizations, and 6 fruit exchanges.

Most of the successful cooperatives started in small enterprises devoted to handling of essentials and developed under efficient handling.

BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL OF ROBBERS

Follow Scent From Manila Depot To

SAFE WAS TAMPERED WITH

Agent At Station Did Not Discover
Were Opened

The Pennsylvania railroad station at Manila was entered by thieves during the night, it was disclosed this morning when H. R. Hupp, agent opened up the place, but an investigation did not reveal that anything was taken.

Blood hounds, belonging to Dr. Wayne Alter of St. Paul, were rushed to the scene of the robbery early this morning, and they immediately took up a scent, and took down the railroad, following the tracks to the town of Homer, two miles east.

At this point, the traces left the railroad, and the bloodhounds were withdrawn from the search, and the detectives from Louisville will resume the search from this point. It is hinted strongly that a clue will be followed, and because no officer was present this morning, the hounds were taken away from their trail, which was said to be leading to the suspect.

The robbers used a sledge hammer in knocking off the tumblers and knobs of the safe, but they did not gain access to the interior, where the money and valuables were kept.

Several boxes containing freight shipments and trunks, which were stored in the depot, were broken into, but a checkup was made today of the contents, and as far as could be determined, nothing was missing from the boxes.

The agent at Manila notified the officials of the railroad, and detectives from Louisville were expected today. Sheriff Hunt also was notified, and was ready to assist the officials in tracing down any clue which might develop.

A few weeks ago, it will be recalled, a robbery took place at the garage in Homer, when over $300 worth of tires and tubes were stolen, and at that time local talent in that vicinity was suspected and it may develop later that there was a connection between the two robberies.

PIONEER OF COUNTY IS DEAD AT MILROY

Years, Expires At The Home Of
His Daughter Monday

EARLY RICHLAND SETTLER

John B. Harrison, a pioneer native of this county, expired at the age of 88 years Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Wolfgang, in Milroy.

The deceased spent his earlier days in the vicinity of Richland, where he engaged in farming, and was one of the earliest settlers of that community. He had been in failing health for several weeks, and his death was not unexpected. The daughter is the only near relative who survives.

The funeral services will be held at the late residence Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in charge of the Rev. R. R. Cross, and burial will be made in the Richland Presbyterian cemetery.

HAVE A HEART

Before his sermon Monday night at the United Presbyterian church, the Rev. W. McClean Work of Richmond asked the congregation not to be discouraged if they didn't like the sermon. He then told them of a sermon he preached while he was still in seminary in the old church in Pennsylvania where his father had been baptized.

An old gentleman came up to him after the service and after telling him that he and the speaker's father had been boys together, had gone to school and church together, had gone swimming together, he told him how delighted he knew the father would be if he were living to know that his son was in the ministry. Then he looked at the young preacher and said, "I just says to my wife 'as I listened to you preach, that some of the very best preachers in our whole church didn't amount to very much to start on.'"

PERSONALITY ATTRACTS MEN

Christianity is a Religion From a Person, by a Person and For a Persons, W. M. Clean Work Says

TWO WEEKS REVIVAL OPENS

Richmond Minister Points Out Spear-
Riven Side of Christ Has Drawn
Men to Him

"Personality is the one thing that always attracts men, the one thing without which real attainment is impossible," said the Rev. W. M. Clean Work of Richmond in his opening sermon Monday night, of the two weeks meetings which are being held at the First United Presbyterian Church.

The theme of the sermon was, "The Personalities of Religion," from the text, "I if I be lifted up from the earth will draw all men unto me," John 12:32.

Mr. Work said that even in an age of organization, such as the twentieth century, the one thing that made organizations and corporations possible is the personality or personalities behind them.

"In this text," said the speaker, "there are three personalities. The person from whom Christianity comes, the person by whom it comes, the person for whom it comes. In other words, Christianity is a religion from a person, by a person and for a person."

"Matthew gave the world a picture of Christ, the prophet, and many men have been drawn by it. Mark, writing particularly to the Roman world, portrayed Christ as the man of power, the wonder worker, and many have been drawn by the lure of his power. Luke showed him to the world of Greek culture as the man of wisdom, the great teacher and philosopher, but running through them all and culminating in the great Gospel of John, the Christ is held before men as the priest.

"Where the words of the prophet have failed to stir, where the glitter of the crown has failed to dazzle, the nail-pierced hands and the thorn-scarred brow have drawn men to Christ, the priest. It has been the way of the cross that has led home more than all things else.

"But Christ must be lifted up if he is to draw men and he must be lifted up by those that believe on him. Then and only then will all men be drawn to him."

Mr. Work will preach tonight on the theme, "The Breadth of Salvation." Services begin promptly at 7:30.

LOCAL PLAYERS IN A SPLENDID BILL

Second Performance of Little Theater Society Again Demonstrates

TWO EXTREMES DEPICTED

The Cross is Made"

The superiority of one-act plays for amateur players was again demonstrated Monday night when the Little Theatre Society of Rushville presented its second bill of the winter before a very enthusiastic audience that filled the lower floor of the theater and overflowed into the balcony.

The program consisted of "Suppressed Desires," a comedy by George Cram Cook and Susan Glasspell; "Where the Cross is Made," a tragedy by Eugene O'Neill, and "Tamar," a ballet arranged by Raymond Gregg from "The Demon" by Lermentow.

The comedy provided a splendid vehicle for the talents of Miss Elizabeth McWilliams, who played the part of Henrietta Brewster, a woman whose devotion to psychoanalysis was destroyed when she had an actual experience with its workings; Stephen Brewster, played by A. F. Cotton, the husband of Henrietta, and Miss Mary Ruth Junken, who had the part of Mabel, sister of Henrietta.

Miss McWilliams possesses a fine voice and her characterization of the wife who was disillusioned when she found her theory of suppressed desires did not apply to her personal relations, made the part very realistic.

Mr. Cotton as the disgusted husband of Henrietta, was very convincing in his presentation of the part and Miss Junken as the sister of Henrietta, admitting her shortcomings as an intellectual, acted the role in a very effective way, especially when she entered into a plot with Henrietta's husband to prove to Henrietta that the effectiveness of psychoanalysis depended on where it was applied.

"Where the Cross is Made" offered an opportunity for fine character delineations that were very effectively done by Denning Havens as Nat, the son of a crazed sea captain; William Worthington, his father, and Miss Bertha Adams, his sister.

The tragedy in the lives of three people due to the illusions of the old sea captain that the Mary Ellen, a vessel which he sent after hidden treasure, would eventually return, though reported lost for three years, was brought out most realistically.

True characterizations were essential to make the utter tragedy of the story seem real, and how well these three capable people did their parts was demonstrated by the rapt attention of the audience and the spontaneous applause that greeted them when the final curtain went down. It was a thing that was never attempted by local amateurs before and the success of the venture only serves to give a vision of the possibilities of the Little Theatre.

"Tamar" was characterized by beautiful costuming, pretty dances, some good music and lovely scenic effects in which bright colors played a very effective part.

Miss Charlotte Norris as Tamar, the wicked queen, was good, but at her best when she sang "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" by Saint-Saens. The play opened with a dance by six attendants at the court of the queen—May Elizabeth Beale, Virginia Sentman, Mary Elizabeth Wagoner, Olive Logan, Frances Kirkpatrick and Judith Maury. Raymond Gregg appeared as Boyar who was in reality the demon in disguise, and who attempted to win the hand of the wicked queen. Failing in this, he returns in his true form and does the dance of the demon.

William Beher and Fred Virtue were slaves in the queen's court. A

DEMONSTRATION IN PHYSICAL WORK

and Girls at Rotary Club Lunch-
con Today Noon

BOYS WORK MEETING HELD

Dr. J. M. Walker Says We Need to
See That Boys do Not Get Wrong
Conception of Work

A demonstration of the kind of physical education work that is being done in the Rushville public schools was given at the regular meeting of the Rotary club today noon at the social club by nineteen boys and girls of the junior high school, under the direction of A. F. Cotton, physical director.

The meeting was arranged by the boys' work committee of the Rotary club to stimulate interest in boys work and begin preparations for summer boys' work, which was started last summer with a boys' camp, culminating two months work during the summer vacation with boys and girls under Mr. Cotton's direction.

In this connection, the physical director said that it was his ambition to start free classes in physical culture as the basketball season ends, so that the high school gymnasium will be available, and it is assured that arrangements can be made for the use of the gym.

The proposal met with the hearty approval of members of the Rotary club and it is regarded as certain that other business and professional men of the city will be very anxious to take up the work.

Other plans, it was stated, are being worked out for a concrete program for boys and girls during the summer vacation, which involves the city park. They are just now taking form and will be announced later as soon as they are definitely arranged.

A part of today's program at the Rotary club was also a discussion of the so-called boy problem by Dr. John M. Walker, a member of the club, who stated that though the youth of today may have greater advantages and fewer handicaps than those of any earlier day, when the schools were meagrely equipped, the one-room schools still had a fellowship that is not possible today, in which boys and girls educated one another.

Dr. Walker asserted that we need to see that boys do not get the wrong conception of work, because of the idea that prevails in some circles that toil is a disgrace. The nobility of work is a thing that young people need to learn, he said.

Boys, the speaker asserted, need a man as a pattern, on whose example they will follow, and they should be taught, he continued, that if they get an inspiration in the measure that they should, they will not have to have a stimulant to keep them on edge. If a boy gets an ideal for inspiration, he will need none, Dr. Walker said.

"We must remember, too," he stated in conclusion, "that this is God's problem as well as ours and that he will help us share it. We must believe in boys. Let the help we give them not be born of doubt, but of confidence."

Mr. Cotton explained that the

STEAM FIRE ENGINE TESTED

Found To Be Working Good

The steam fire engine, one of the historic relics of the fire department was taken from the fire station Monday afternoon and given a test in throwing water. The engine worked good and had a strong pressure. It is being kept in reserve at the fire station, and is used only in case of serious fires, where water is drafted from the mill race.

The modernized motor pumper has replaced the steam engine, but it is considered good protection in case of a serious fire, or breakdown of the water and light plant.

The father being unable to pay the Rushville physician at the time, now sends the cradle to pay the bill as Dorothy has outgrown it. The doctor has it on display in his office with other Indian curios.

TWO DEMOCRATIC BILLS ARE HALTED

Senate Postpones Indefinitely Measure To Abolish Office Of County

TAX RATE BILL IS SHELVED

Passage Of Bill To Prevent 500
Auto Race Memorial Day As-
sured, Author Says

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 30.—Two democratic measures were halted in the state senate today when the senators voted to postpone two bills introduced by Senator Batt.

One bill to abolish the office of county highway superintendent was postponed by a vote of 29 to 14. The other measure, a bill to remove the power of fixing local tax rates and vest it in the county council, was also postponed.

A bill empowering cities to employ women police was also shelved by the senate.

A new bill put before the house provides for the reorganization of the state board of education. It was introduced by Representatives Leveron and Murden.

Trappers of wild game and fur bearing animals would be required to pay an annual license of $10.00 under terms of a bill introduced by native Johnson.

A certificate of vision would be required of all drivers of automobiles under terms of a bill introduced by Rep. Stelhorn.

Definite assurance that the bill to prevent the annual 500-mile automobile sweepstakes and other commercialized sporting events in Indiana on Memorial day will pass the state house of representatives was given today by Ralph Uppike who presented it in the house.

"Out of the 100 members, 72 have pledged themselves to vote for the measure as it stands and to resist expected attempts to push through amending amendments," Uppike declared. "The bill will come up for second reading tomorrow and I'm going to make a speech supporting it to prove that I'm not yellow."

The measure already has passed the senate and it is reported Governor McCray will not veto it if the bill is approved by both houses.

The Arlington high school will present a three act mystery comedy Wednesday night at the high school gymnasium, and the title of the play is, "Am I Intruding". The curtain will rise at eight o'clock, and music for the show will be provided by the high school orchestra.

Twelve students are in the cast, and the play is said to be exceptionally good, and is given on a royalty basis. The show is abundant with comedy, and farcical situations in which a threat of mystery is woven to keep the audience in suspense from the start.

J. H. KIPLINGER TO RETURN TO EUROPE

Leaves Wednesday For New York
and Will Sail Next Week For
Two Months Stay Abroad

TO RESUME LAW PRACTICE

Services of Rushville Attorney on Commissions Settling War Problems are Recognized

John H. Kiplinger, who returned from Washington Friday, after spending several days there on business, will leave Wednesday for New York and will sail next week for Europe where he will attend to business matters, and then will return to Rushville to resume the practice of law.

Mr. Kiplinger returned to Rushville last December after spending four years in Europe, first as an army officer, later as a judge advocate in the district of Paris and finally as an employee of the allied reparations commission, during which period he did much valuable work in writing and negotiating protocols and as vice-chairman of a sub-commission of the reparations commission supervising the report of war loot taken by Germany.

His work concluded, Mr. Kiplinger returned home the latter part of last year, but finds it necessary to return to Europe for two months. He will be in the heart of the occupied area of Germany while away and expects to get some first-hand information regarding the conditions which have grown out of the French invasion of Germany to enforce reparations payments by Germany.

Mr. Kiplinger refused to comment in any way on the relation of the United States to the European tangle, which has been complicated by the criticism of the acts of America's unofficial observer on the reparations commission.

The Rushville attorney organized Company B of the Fourth Indiana Infantry here during the summer of 1917, after the United States declared war on the Central Powers, and was commissioned its captain. The company was ordered to Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss., in August of that year, and shortly after arriving in camp for training, the Fourth infantry was converted into the 139th Field Artillery and members of Company B were placed in the Headquarters company and Battery A of the outfit. Mr. Kiplinger was appointed captain of the Headquarters company.

He was detailed to go to Fort Sill, Okla., in December, 1917, where he finished the school of fire, and in September, 1918, sailed with an advance detail from the 139th to attend a firing school in France. The regiment followed soon afterwards and was ready to go into action when the armistice was signed November 11, 1918.

The 139th was ordered home December 1, 1918, but Captain Kiplinger was ordered by general headquarters to the headquarters of the Third Army of Occupation, and in January, 1919, under the reorganization of the judge advocate's department in Paris, was asked to assist in the reorganization of the trial work by the chief of staff.

He remained on duty in Paris until his discharge from the army in 1920, his last duty being to close up the district of Paris for the judge advocate. In 1919, in addition to his duties in the judge advocate's department, Capt. Kiplinger was in charge of special work in Switzerland, investigating graft in the quartermaster's department.

On March 1, 1920, Capt. Kiplinger was offered a position as head of the legal service of the finance section of the inter-allied reparations commission. He accepted it and held the post until June of that year. He was then appointed a member of the sub-commission of the reparations commission at Weisbaden, Germany, which was created for the supervision of the return of war loot by Germany, and served as vice-chairman of the commission.

WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS

Caused by Troubles Women Often Have—Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Medina, New York.—"I had a great deal of trouble such as women often have, and this affected my nerves. For over two years I suffered this way, then I read in the Buffalo Times about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and have taken it with very good results. I am very much better and feel justified in praising the Vegetable Compound to my friends and neighbors who suffer from anything of the kind."—Mrs. Wm. H. Adkins, 311 Elm Road, Medina, N. Y.

Feels Like Girl Sixteen

Rochester, N. Y.—"After my twelfth birthday I was all run-down. My neighbors thought I was going to die. I saw your advertisement in the paper and bought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The first bottle helped me and I kept on taking it. I only weighed ninety pounds when I began taking it, and I have gained in weight and feel like a girl of sixteen. I never can say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. N. S. Dorey, 16 Sycamore Park, Rochester, N. Y.

Income Tax Facts

While the exemptions for married persons are $2,500 for persons whose net income for 1922 was $5,000 or less, and $2,000 for persons whose net income was more than $5,000, there is inserted in the income tax law a qualifying clause in justice to the taxpayer whose net income just exceeds $5,000. The law provides that the reduction of the amount of the exemption from $2,500 to $2,000 shall not operate to increase the tax which would be payable if the exemption were $2,500 by more than the amount of net income in excess of $5,000. For example, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones had a net income for 1922 of $5,010. Without the benefit of the above provision, their tax would be $102.40 ($5,010 less $2,000 equaling $3,010, at 4 percent.) Their actual tax is $110.40 ($5,010 less $2,500 equaling $2,510 at 4 percent plus $10, the amount by which the net income exceeds $5,000.

For the year 1922 there is no change in the normal tax, which is 4 percent on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the exemptions and 8 percent on the remaining net income. The surtax rates, which apply only to income in excess of $6,000, are lowered. For the year 1922 the surtax rates range from 1 percent on the amount of net income between $6,000 and $10,000 to 50 percent on the amount by which the net income exceeds $200,000. For the taxable year 1921 the surtax rates ranged from 1 percent on the amount of net income between $5,000 and $6,000 to 65 percent on the amount by which the net income exceeded $1,000,000.

The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return or in quarterly installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15, 1923.

SUIT TO FORECLOSE MORTGAGE ON FARM

Union Trust Company of Greensburg Makes Leela Lawson Defendant, Asking $1,300 Judgment

Robert J. Hall Files Petition to Have Guardian For Half-Brother Frank J. Hall

Two civil actions have been placed on file in the circuit court, one being a complaint on a note and to foreclose a farm mortgage, filed by the Union Trust Company of Greensburg, against Leela Lawson and the Peoples Loan and Trust Company of this city, and with the demand at $1,300 judgment.

The other action is a petition filed by Robert J. Hall against Frank J. Hall, a petition asking for a guardian, in which the petitioner sets out that the defendant is a person of advanced age, and is incapable of managing his own affairs. The plaintiff is a half-brother of the defendant, who is now at the Indiana Masonic home in Franklin.

In the suit on a note, the plaintiff alleges that the first named defendant negotiated a loan for $1,000 in October 1921, and that the note is past due, and with interest the demand is placed at $1,300.

The plaintiff alleges that the first named defendant also negotiated a loan with the Peoples Loan and Trust Company of this city, and that a mortgage on a 35-acre farm was given as security, and the plaintiff demands that the mortgage be foreclosed in order to pay the note due the Greensburg bank, which also would satisfy the demand of the Rushville bank.

The Peoples Loan and Trust Company has been named commissioners to assume charge of real estate involved in the estate of Michael Oneal, deceased, over which litigation involving the heirs was decided in court recently.

The plaintiff in the case, Carl Oneal, was awarded judgment on special findings in the case in which Loretta Oneal, his mother, and other heirs were defendants. The evidence on the case was heard the latter part of last September, and the decision of special findings was rendered last week.

OPPOSE 8-HOUR BILL

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—Hotel keepers of Indiana were lined up today in opposition to the measure pending before the legislature which would provide an eight hour day for women in industry. They take the position that the bill would work a hardship on hotel keepers. The stand is taken in keeping with a resolution adopted at the recent meeting of the Indiana Hotel Keepers' Association.

Russian folk dance in the queen's court by Miss Lura Straton of Newcastle, teacher of dancing classes here, was applauded.

Mrs. Francis Knecht and Mrs. George Hogsett provided accompaniments and music at the piano between the plays. The settings and costumes were by Mr. Gregg, with the exception of the Batik dyeing, which was done by Miss Henrietta Coleman. The staging and directing was by Mr. Gregg and Mr. Havens. All stage and electrical effects were executed by Charles Brown, George Goodin and Walter Easley of the Princess theatre.

The success of the second performance of the Little Theatre Society fully demonstrates the value of one-act plays for community players. The sentiment among members of the society and others who have attended both performances is strong for a continuation of this program, rather than attempting a longer play.

WHICH DO YOU PREFER?

Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you.—James 4: 7, 8.

A Deplorable Situation

The problem of maintaining law and order and protecting life and property without resort to "vigilante" methods is neither a sectional problem nor one apparently near solution. The formation of a committee of 1000 in Arkansas and the lynching there of a striker accused of sabotage is the latest illustration of the task before the country.

In 13 counties in the Northeastern part of Arkansas the farmers, the merchants, the manufacturers—in fact the whole industrial population—depends upon one short railroad for transportation of outgoing commodities, incoming supplies, and passenger traffic. For two years the road has been handicapped by a strike and during practically all of that time lawless people have been burning bridges, tearing up tracks, putting emery dust in engine bearings, etc. The courts and officers of the law seemed helpless in the face of the depredations. Not only was property of the railroad company destroyed, but what was worse, the products of the farmers were rendered practically valueless because they could not depend upon transportation to market.

After standing that sort of thing for two years, the citizens, mostly farmers, were told, formed a committee of 1000 to run out of the state persons who were believed to be guilty of the destructive acts.

When a portion of the committee went to the residence of one suspect, he opened fire on the crowd, which the crowd returned, and he was taken into custody and hanged. Two other men were flogged and many others chased out of the community.

The situation is deplorable from beginning to end. It is impossible for an outsider to pass upon the merits of the controversy which resulted in a strike. Perhaps the strike was justified; perhaps not. But whether or not, destruction of property and imperiling of lives were not justified. That the people of the affected section of the state stood it for two years is a sufficient testimonial to their law-abiding character and their willingness to suffer patiently until patience ceased to be a virtue. In their final action they were unquestionably defending themselves and their homes from the destruction that would be wrought if transportation should be permanently denied them.

Whether that was the only recourse they had, is also impossible for an outsider to declare. It would seem to be within the power of officers of the law to preserve order and protect property. Why this was not accomplished in that section of Arkansas, is not explained. The culminating tragedy, a lynching without trial in legal form, is an illustration of that group action which was predicted not long ago by the Atlanta Constitution when it declared that unless duly constituted authorities preserve peace and protect property vigilante committees must take action.

This is no time to ask, "Whither are we drifting?" We are not drifting; we are rushing on, pell mell.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

PEOPLE'S SAYSO

County School Unit

In my former article, I endeavored to show the fallacy of calling the proposed law a "money saving device". I dealt mainly with those phases of the law which took away the discretion from the county board. The word "shall" is used 268 times in this bill and makes the proposed law sound more like a criminal law than a law for the improvement of our school system.

Prof. W. W. Black, who has written many articles for the press and has spoken before numerous organizations in favor of this bill deplors the inefficiency of our county Superintendents and states only 5 of the 92 in the State have had proper training for their present work, and yet this bill makes all County Superintendents executive officers of their boards and they are all eligible for reappointment at the expiration of their present terms.

If the duties under the present law are sufficient to require all of the time of the County Superintendent and one or more assistants, the proposed law would require the entire time of two or more full sized men or women and a still larger corps of assistants.

If the Superintendent, is inefficient in his present position, why increase his duties and responsibilities by unloading all of the cares of the schools of the County on him. Will he be any more efficient with a more than doubled load?

All school "instructional" materials and supplies which he recommends in writing shall be purchased by the board.

I have no desire to criticize the County Superintendents as a class nor the individuals who have held that office in this County; There has been great advancement in their responsibility and duties since my term, and they have been men who have done their full duty. No County has had better officials, but it is too much to expect them to do all that is required of them in this law. They have been and of necessity must be young men, of limited business experience. Men of affairs in the business world have not kept up in educational matters, and if they have been successful in business, would not aspire to the office of County Superintendent. Yet this law makes the Superintendent the sole judge of what supplies shall be purchased for the schools. If he should select certain particular article made by a certain firm, the board must purchase it, regardless of the price. He is the sole judge. Not even the State department of education may overrule his decision. I do not say the Superintendent would be influenced by the argument, flattery or corruption of the wily supply man, but it is too much to expect him with his inexperience to successfully combat all the frauds that would be presented to him. This is only a small portion of his duties, and yet they are thrust upon this man. Prof. Black says is too small for the job he now holds. This officer is called County Superintendent, Secretary of the board and executive officer of the board. Aside from being the sole judge of the instructional materials and supplies, including supplementary text books, readers of both elementary and high school grade, library books, scientific apparatus, charts, maps, globes, atlases, dictionaries, encyclopedias, chalk, erasers, working papers, ink, rules, etc., which shall be bought for the schools. Here are a few of his other duties as described in the proposed law: He shall conduct all correspondence of the board, issue calls for meetings, prepare the docket or calendar for the same. Keep the minutes of the proceedings, preserve all the records of the board, receive all reports required by it, and shall perform such other secretarial duties as may be imposed by the board. He shall be the Agent through whom the board performs its duties, and he shall take the initiative in the performance of these duties; he shall enforce the school laws execute the policies of the board, advise it on technical educational matters and school finances, represent it in dealing with the public, officers of the State Department of Instruction, school directors, principals, teachers, regular school employees, and the staff of the office of the board. He shall attend all meetings of the board and of its committees except when matters concerning himself are under discussion. The County board shall on the written recommendation of the County Superintendent fix the salaries of all supervisors, principals, teachers, attendance officers, school doctors, school nurses, janitors, drivers, and of all other regular school employees.

The County Superintendent shall explain the true intent and meaning of the School laws and of the rules and regulations of the State board of education, subject to the approval in writing of the State Superintendent. He shall also decide without expense to the parties concerned, all controversies and disputes involving the rules and regulations and the administration of the public schools of the County, and his decision shall be final unless appeal is taken to the State Superintendent within thirty days. He shall have the power to call any or all of the regular employees of the board together from time to time for conference. He shall visit the schools, conduct tests, observe the instructions, confer with principals and teachers and advise with them about their professional studies. He shall each year determine the grade of success of all supervisors, principals, and teachers employed in the County school system, and not later than June 30th deliver a signed copy of such success grade to each supervisor, principal and teacher. He shall keep on file a permanent record of such success grades. He shall perform such duties in connection with the licensing of teachers as may be required by the State Board of Education. He shall nominate and fix the salaries of all assistants in his office.

The above is only a part of the duties as laid out in this bill for the County Superintendent. Any person qualified to perform them all would

My objection to this feature of the bill is that it is impracticable. The provisions cannot be carried out by mere man. No individual can hope to perform the duties imposed on the County Superintendent. His duties at present require the services of a full sized man. This bill would make these duties at least three times greater.

The proponents of this bill would have us believe that it is in the interest of economy, and yet it does not dispense with a single official or employee, nor does it reduce the salary of any such, while it does provide for an increase of County officials and employees. It also provides for the expenditure of large sums of money for reports, office help, transportation charges of official and assistants, blanks, stationery and postage, and may require the purchase of automobiles and storage rooms.

It creates a school oligarchy, at a time when we have not yet recovered from a horrible war to make the world safe for democracy, and takes away the local control of the schools.

It is based on the false assumption that a County Superintendent who has had limited business experience can develop at once into a trained business man, and be competent to manage both the scholastic and business sides of the schools of the entire county.

The bill is framed on the theory that all small schools should be abolished, and the children transported to the larger schools. There is no doubt that the small high school is an expensive luxury, but if we would keep our young people on the farm, their associates and community life must be developed in the country. No township should be retained unless it has a center of some kind where its people, young and old may meet for enjoyment and discussion of public questions, or questions affecting that particular community. Those favoring this bill cannot contend that the larger school is better for the morals of the child than the small school. The all too numerous reports in the daily papers and whispered about, are all too convincing. When the school becomes so large that the teacher and pupil do not have that chance for close personal acquaintance the pupil becomes a mere cog in the wheel, and his individual welfare receives little or no attention until he interferes with the entire machine.

This bill is so revolutionary and so full of possibilities for harm, that it should not be rushed through this session of the General Assembly. The less machinery we have in our school system, the better. Let our townships retain the right of self determination.

GAME IS PUSHED FORWARD A NIGHT

Newcastle Will Come Thursday Evening to Give Both Teams Rest for Saturday's Games

TOURNAMENT HERE SATURDAY

The basketball game with Newcastle, scheduled here for Friday night, has been pushed forward a night, making it on Thursday, in order to accommodate both teams which have games scheduled on Saturday. By playing the game on Thursday night, it will give the locals an opportunity of resting on Friday.

The game should be a hard fought one, because the two teams appeared to be evenly matched on the court at Newcastle several weeks ago, when Newcastle won out by a lone point. Shorty Morrison of Indianapolis has been assigned to referee the game, replacing Evans, who was contracted previously to be the official.

A preliminary game will be started at 7:15, and will be played with the Rushville second team and the Gings high school team.

Tickets for the invitational tournament, are being sold by high school students, who are making a house to house canvass, and each school participating in the tourney has been given allotments. A record crowd is looked for and officials point out that season tickets should be bought in order to permit the holders of securing seats.

GIVE THE FANS A CHANCE TO REST UP TOO

The game with Newcastle has been pushed up a night, and will be played here Thursday instead of Friday. That will give the Rushville players a chance to rest up one day before the county journey on Saturday.

Newcastle also wants some rest, because they play Marion on Saturday.

BIG EIGHT IS COMING

The Big Eight of Rush County will take part in a free for all here Saturday. All eight high school teams are just about equally as confident of winning the game, and as long as they are confident, it is about half of the battle.

BOY, PAGE DR. COUE

Hittin' 'em believes that all the Rushville players need, is a little more confidence in themselves, and if they would use some of Dr. Coue's stuff on "day by day in every way, we're hittin' the basket," it would improve them a great deal.

IT WILL WORK SOMETIMES

We know from experience with John Geraghty, that he studies Dr. Coue. Every game he has his Webb team play, he tells them before hand that they can put across a win, and that confidence is what it takes to win. Generally that Webb team wins.

The thing can be overdone. Too much confidence has often times caused defeat. Don't Rushville remember "Little Sandusky" in the tourney here two years ago.

MAYBE STEVE HAS SOMETHING TO SAY ABOUT THIS

Hittin' 'em nominates Dailey for the first team. Any player that can put across six goals against that Richmond team deserves a little higher place.

The drawing for positions in the county tournament will be made Thursday night just before the Newcastle game. It was planned at first to wait until 8:30 Saturday morning, but now the teams will know before hand who their opponents will be, and give them a chance to size each other up.

All the cup lacks now is the names of the players inscribed on it. When John Geraghty signed up for the tourney he told 'em that he liked block lettering, and didn't want any script. Hittin' 'em expects that any winner will be glad to take just any kind of lettering.

It is rumored that Vern Norris' glee club will furnish the music for the tournament. We all heard 'em perform Saturday night, and as near as we could figure 'em out, they consisted of Judge Sparks, Hale Pearson and Will Norris.

WE'LL PICK GREENSBURG

Carthage is going to have a tourney February 10. High schools invited are Charlottesville, Maxwell, Westland, Fortville, Wilkinson, Greensburg, Manilla and Carthage.

LOST THREE IN A ROW

A high school fan writes us as follows: "The change in line-up has so far failed to stop any team to any extent or to score a victory out of the three games that have been played since it was changed. It was thought to be much better than the other one, but hasn't proved itself to be as yet. We are still hoping though for it to do something and at the same time wondering why not change back again." All we got to say, Mr. Fan, is that when it comes to changin' line-ups, we pass that to Coach Jones.

A PERFECT RECORD

Few Chances in Major League

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 30—Most of the major league managers are not satisfied over the material they have to work with next season, but the majority will start with practically the same clubs they had last year.

The two champion clubs will start the season with just about the same lineups they had in 1922.

John McGraw says he is satisfied with his world's champion Giants and the world probably will rise up and remark "Why shouldn't he be?"

The National League champions, however, will have two newcomers—Jimmy O'Connell and Jack Bentley, who cost the club close to $200,000. What this pair will do to earn their price will be one of the features of the season.

If the Yankees succeed in getting Eddie Collins from the White Sox, they ought to be a much improved team and they will have to be to win the 1923 pennant.

Collins at second, Bib Falk in the outfield and one of the young Sox pitchers in reserve, would not make the Yanks the losers even if they have to part with Meusel, Ward and Hoyt.

With Collins at second, the Yanks would have an infield almost as good as McGraw's million-dollar combination and with Falk in the garden, the American League champs would have at least one fielder.

Jake Daubert's "decision" to retire if he doesn't get the salary that Garry Herrmann says he will not give him will force Pat Moran to make a change in his infield. The Red Leader probably will put Fonseca on first, if Daubert does not re-

become of the coaches' team. So far they haven't lost a game.

Say gang, Thursday night would be a good chance to start hittin' the basket in earnest. It would be good practice for the tourney.

No player has been as much out of luck this season as Herman Phillips, captain, and center of the team. He has no trouble in tearing through the opponent's team, or in taking the ball down the line, but he can't find the right place on the bank board. Flip is a whirlwind, a hard worker and a fine player. Its not practice that he needs, its just encouragement and more confidence in his shots, and you will see 'em roll in.

SAYS FANS ARE LOYAL IN THIS OLD TOWN

"A 100 percent Rushville fan, first last and all the time," takes exception to Hittin' 'em's article about scoring the fans, and remarks as follows: "Are the fans good sports, Hittin' 'em? I'll say that Rushville fans are as loyal a bunch of fans as any in the state. You must remember that many fans can't possibly be present on Saturday night. Again, haven't they stood faithful under many disagreeable features such as waiting out in the rain for the doors to open after time, sitting on hard seats waiting the coming of the referee, paying extra for a neighboring opponents unsportsmanlike actions and putting up with unpopular referees?"

WE AGREE WITH YOU HERE RICHMOND

Richmond high school, with a clean slate of 16 games this year is having high hopes. Listen to what Hoosier Courtship says in the Richmond Palladium:

Sombody remarked the other day that the sentiment of Vincennes was that Richmond could not even furnish a good practice session, let alone a good game. Maybe, Vincennes could have the opportunity of hooking that practice session with Richmond, here on the Coliseum floor or on some neutral court. Hoosier be-

port, and it would be a fortunate move as John McGraw thinks that Fonseca is one of the best first base prospects in baseball.

The Pittsburgh Pirates are still looking for a second baseman. Bill McKechnie would like to get Sam Bohne from Cincinnati, but after Barney Dreyfuss started the rollers under Rube Benton when Garry Herrmann had the deal closed for him, it is not likely that the Red chieftain will be inclined to do anything for the Pirate chief, unless he gets two dollars for one. The magnates will do anything under those conditions.

Tris Speaker is working so industriously with the can that the Cleveland Indians may have to step out in April with a brand new team. Tris obviously expects a lot of youngsters to make good.

Ty Cobb will have a stronger team in Detroit with Del-Pratt on second base and Rip Collins on the pitching staff.

Everyone knows what kind of a good player Pratt is and Collins is just waiting for someone to force his talent out of him. Cobb may be that one.

Chances of the St. Louis Browns depend in large part of what form the pitchers shown down through the stretch. The team is no better as a whole than it was last season and no team is going to win the pennant on last year's form.

Signing of Frank "Hunk" Chance as manager and the spirited bidding he made for Joe Boley and Max Bishop, two of the Baltimore stars, might be taken as an indication that Harry Frazee had decided to make a team of the Boston Red Sox, instead of a bargain counter. Boston fans will rise en masse and yell "It's about time!"

heaves that southern basketball isn't what it is talked up to be.

TO MEET AN ALL-STAR FIVE

Arlington A. C.'s to Take on Fast Bunch Thursday Night

The Arlington Athletic Club will meet an all star team Thursday, at the Arlington gym. The line-up of the all star team will be as follows: Stuart, Em-Roe, forward; Palmer, Greensburg, forward; Ruddle, Milroy, center; Lucas, Columbus, guard; Norris, New Salem, and Osterling, Milroy, back guards.

This is the best combination that can be got together and they are going to put up a stiff game for the Arlington gang. However, any team that defeats the Arlington team will know that they have had a game.

"Shame" At The Mystic

"Shame," the William Fox super-special which created a sensation

in New York will be seen today at the Mystic.

This is an announcement of importance, for the picture is conceded to be one of the biggest of the year. Its power of appeal was tested at a prominent Broadway theatre, where it drew large crowds at every performance and made a tremendous impression.

"Shame is a story of a young man, David Fielding, born in an alien land who is brought back to the family home in San Francisco as a child after his father's tragic death. He inherits his grandfather's enormous wealth and becomes head of the big Fielding shipping interests. He marries a beautiful and talented woman, and is expecting paternity. Life so far, has been kind to young Fielding.

From the country where the young shipping magnate was born comes a trader of evil reputation, who had been balked in some of his nefarious schemes by David's father. He finds the son and in revenge tells him he is a half-cast, son of William Fielding and a native woman in the far-away country. The trader threatens to tell the story unless David agrees to enter with him and his shipping facilities into a huge smuggling enterprise. David refuses indignantly, and laughs at the story of mixed blood. The thought preys upon him, however, and finally drives him to take his infant child and flee from civilization to the snow fields of Alaska. There he battles with a wolf and experiences other wild adventures. The mystery of his life is cleared in startling fashion.

SOCIETY SHUNS BRIGHT COLORS

By HEDDA HOYT

United Press Fashion Editor
(Written for United Press)

New York, N. Y., Jan. 30—The Horseshoe ring of the Metropolitan Opera this season still glitters forth in tones of red and green. This year's shades, however, are mere fade-outs of the brighter reds and greens of last season.

Pinks range from flesh tones to apricots and corals, but never verge on the brilliant red of last year, and greens are of the soft bottle verde and dull jade variety, rather than of emerald and kelly green. White crystalized gowns are scattered here and there and there is an occasional gold gown, but there are entirely obliterated by the preponderance of greens and pinks.

The evening gowns remain sleeveless, with rounding armholes, and necklines are slightly lower than they were last season. Bodices are cut simply and are long-waisted and skirts are of the clinging type rather than bouffant.

Feather fans of enormous proportions match the gowns with which they are carried this year. Coral gowns have coral fans; flesh colored gowns have flesh toned fans, etc. There is no attempt for contrast. One the most effective fans at the Opera this season is carried by a young matron who occupies a different box each night. One always catches her by the huge fan of smoked colored ostrich, which looks exactly like a puff of smoke as it flows back and forth.

A "worm's-eye" view of the four hundred which one gets from the lower floor, assures one that the society buds have "put the skids" on bobbed hair. There are no "bobs" among them. Though we are surrounded with bobs on the lower floor, which range from the straight and stringy Greenwich Village variety to the permanently curled Fifth Avenue type, these notables will have none of them. However, every rose must have its thorn and one young miss of the upper boxes whose looks last year would have been the envy of a Fiji Islander, has taken matters into her own little hands and is wearing her dark hair clipped short like a man's and brilliantined a la Rudolph Valentino. More longnettes were focused upon her than upon the stage.

Even slippers which tie over the instep with little gold laces are made of gold and silver brocade and are worn quite generally. There is no attempt to match the shade of the gown with satin slippers this year. Sandaled shaped slippers of red leather are worn now and then with silver lace frocks adding a French tone which is quite effective.

Wraps of ermine and near ermine are the rage of the season, as the all-white wrap holds preference over the colorful velvets of former seasons. Summer ermine, which received its name on account of its sunburn coloring, is used as a trimming on many of the white velvet wraps.

Hair ornaments are less elaborate than they have been for some time. Few tiaras are worn even by the older matrons and these few are extremely simple, being nothing more than narrow bandeaux which are worn low over the forehead. Sheer silver lace wrapped about the head conceals many a last year's bobbed head.

Local Store Observes Its Sixteenth Birthday

The O. P. C. H. is celebrating its sixteenth birthday this week. Along back in 1903, Jack Knecht, the present proprietor, started in the clothing business, at that time working as a clerk for the Silverberg Clothing Co. The Silverberg firm retired from business February 1, 1907 and Mr. Knecht, at the age of 21, took over the business with J. W. Parker and his brothers as partners. Mr. Parker retired in a few years and on Feb. 1, 1921, Mr. Knecht became sole proprietor, taking over his brother's interests. The store was started with the motto, O. P. C. H. (One Price Clothing House) to which the proprietors have always clung.

MAY EXTEND OPEN SEASON FOR DUCKS

Twenty Two States Now Have Same Federal Open Seasons Regulating Shooting as Indiana

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 30—Federal migratory regulations will not permit shooting wild ducks and geese in the spring, although federal officials are willing to extend the season fifteen days from the present regulation, according to George N. Mannfeld, chief of the fish and game division of the state conservation commission, who is cooperating with officials in Washington to this end.

Recently Mr. Mannfeld was notified that if a sufficient number of sportsmen of Indiana wished the season extended, and would write the conservation department to that effect, federal authorities would act favorably on the recommendation. It was made plain at that time that the only change possible was a fifteen day extension of the open shooting period, and this would be taken off the opening date. In other words the regulation now makes it lawful to shoot wild ducks and geese from September 16 to and including December 31. The proposed change would open the lawful shooting season on October 1 and close it on January 16.

According to Mannfeld twenty-two states now have the same federal open seasons regulating the shooting similar to Indiana. In the southern states the last day for

TEMPLE OF MITRA EXCAVATED

RUINS OF ROMAN CITY DISCOVERED ALONG DANUBE RIVER

The excavated Temple of Mitra, which Hungarian scientists claim belongs to the once well known Roman city called Aquinoun. Only a mass of ruins now remains of past splendor, and excavations being made tell vividly the story held intact for centuries. Aquinoun, on the Danube River, is near the Hungarian capital of Budapest. Over a thousand years ago the Magyars reached that river from the East and there established their capital "Buda". It was near there that the Roman city, a place of flourishing civilization existed until buried by some upheaval. Hungarian scientists are working feverishly now that some clues have been discovered and it will not be long before the entire city is excavated.

Under the treaty act with Canada both countries have agreed to permit no shooting from March 10 to September 1, which is the mating and breeding season of these birds. Duck hunters in Indiana who wish the season changed making it lawful only to shoot from October 1 to January 15, both dates inclusive, should write Mr. Mannfeld. Letters and petitions asking for other dates are of no avail, for they will not be considered by federal officials. Letters to be effective and which will receive consideration from federal officials should ask the date in Indiana be changed to read, "birds may be shot from October 1 to January 15." Federal officials have made it plain that requests for other dates will not be considered.

Proper Dressing Held Out As Panacea For Fat Women

Chicago, Jan. 30—Proper dressing in lieu of reducing exercises was recommended for fat women today by Ralph Moni instructor in women's dress, designing at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts.

"Stout ladies by dressing correctly can look thinner and prettier—this is the shortest route to happiness," declared the fashion expert.

"The fat feminine figure for sheer looks cannot compete with the well-shaped slender woman," said Moni. "But the stout woman can dress herself in such a manner that the harsh lines of her figure are made illusive to the eye and perhaps attractive."

"She should always dress in loose garments, as the form fitting clothes emphasize her body lines. The loose hung skirt and dresses will eliminate to some extent the harsh lines and make her appearance slender."

"Texture and color of the dress a fat woman wears also determine largely how well she appears to others."

"A fat woman should wear thin dresses, as the heavy textures give the appearance of bulkiness. She should avoid bright colors and wear the more subdued shades. Green is one exception and fat women generally appear best in this color."

Fat ladies like all others, according to Moni, should wear corsets.

"Corsets keep down the hip line and develop the bust," he said. "The best looking women are those with shapely busts and practically no hip lines. Women who abandon corsets often lose their busts and develop high unsightly hips."

Long dresses look best on fat women, Moni declared. "There is grace in long dresses," he said.

"Dress trimmings should never appear on the hips or other conspicuous spots of the fat figure," Moni continued. "Ornaments should run perpendicular, and from the shoulders to the ankles—otherwise they accentuate the ugly parts of the stout female figure."

BUILDING BOOM SWEEPS COUNTRY

Reports From Coast To Coast Indicate Much Activity Solving The Housing Question

WILL MEAN LOWER RENTS

Peak Of High Rents Is Believed To Have Been Reached, As Building Plans Go Forward

The crest of the high rent wave has been reached.

While these are only a few instances of actual decrease of rents, a coast-to-coast building boom is in progress which will eventually result in cutting housing costs.

The statements are based on a digest of dispatches to the United Press from all parts of the country. In some cities the realtors insist the increase in population will prevent a decrease and may even justify further boosts, but for the most part the tendency is downward.

Buffalo, N. Y.—"The present building boom will no doubt affect rents, which are somewhat lower now because of the number of buildings available," according to Guernsey and Overmire, inc., realtors.

Portland, Ore.—C. G. Rohner, realtor, said large numbers of houses and flats are vacant, with rents 25 per cent lower than 18 months ago.

Chicago.—Tenants protective league looks for lower rents when leases expire next May.

Oklahoma City.—A. F. Bond, prominent realty dealer: "The increased number of houses and apartments will force rents to continue a downward trend."

Lincoln, Neb.—House rents are decreasing, but apartments are as high as ever.

Kansas City.—Rents are 20 per cent below the war high level, with a surplus of 200 to 300 apartments. A drop next October is expected.

New Orleans.—High class apartments underwent a slight rent reduction during the last year.

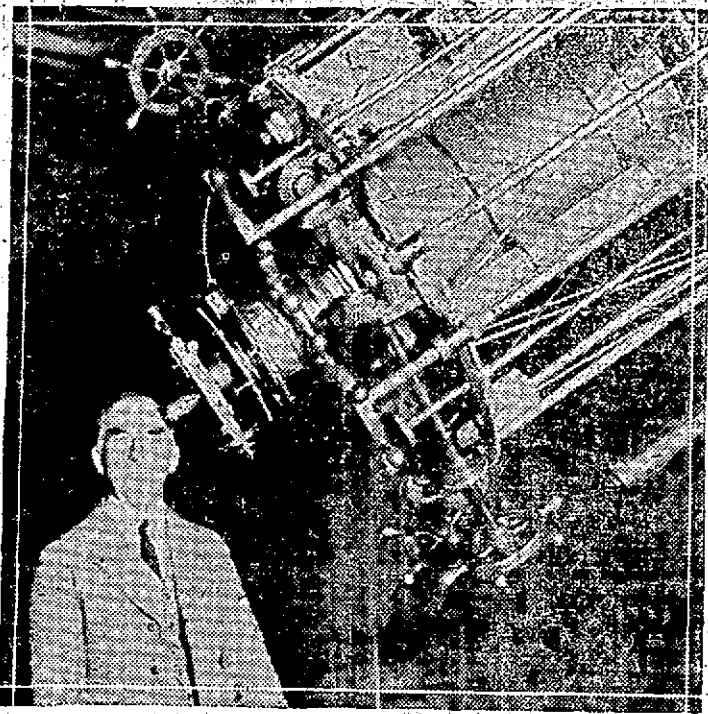

Atlanta.—The chamber of commerce said rents were going down generally.

Columbus, Ohio.—The building boom has stabilized rents and if it continues rents will come down is the opinion of R. C. Swiceard, head of a big rental agency.

Other cities reported stabilization while others predicted further increases. Rents are about stationary in New York while housing is normal. No reductions are in sight in Philadelphia as the demand exceeds the supply according to the real estate board. Houston, New Orleans, Boston, Pittsburg, Harrisburg, Wilkesbarre, Detroit and Albany reported no decrease in sight, while Dallas, forecast even higher prices because of high building costs.

Denver landlords said rents could not come down until building costs did. Starting work on a $10,000,000 Ford plant at St. Paul, with resultant influx of workers, bids fair to keep rents up there. High taxes and labor costs were advanced by Milwaukee landlords as reasons for not cutting. Springfield Illinois doesn't expect reductions before next winter, but St. Louis realtors admitted the building boom if continued will bring down rents. Indianapolis saw no prospect of a decrease.

1950 COAL MINERS DIED DURING 1922

Actual Number of Accidents During Past Year Smaller But Percentage is Greater

MAJOR ACCIDENTS INCREASE

Powder Electricity and Haulage Accidents Showed a "Gratifying Reduction"

Washington, Jan. 23—Fatal accidents in coal mines, in the face of a five months shut down, due to the miners strike in the summer and the added precautions taken to prevent accidents, mounted to a total of 1950 in 1922, only 23 less than the previous year, the Bureau of Mines announced today.

The actual number of accidents for 1922 was only slightly smaller, but when compared in relation to the number of millions of tons of coal produced, the total reaches a greater percentage. "Major" accidents, where five or more miners are killed increased from 5 to 13, and the death total in these from 34 to 261, the figures showed.

George S. Rice, chief mining engineer, of the Bureau of Mines, said that "suggestions as to the proper precautions made by the Bureau and followed by the mine owners, seem not to abate the number of accidents," due to carelessness on the part of miners.

"Due to the natural inclinations of the miners, who are paid on a piece basis, to make as much as possible in placing props under overhanging strata, or in taking them out altogether," Rice stated, "little, if any, improvement has been shown in the records for the past several years in the number of accidents from this cause. The past year showed 786 deaths from falling rocks and coal."

COW WAS PART GOAT

Kendallville, Ind., Jan. 30—George Dow owned a cow with wonderful digestive organs and quantity of producing high grade milk. Recently the animal began losing weight and then quit giving milk and finally died. A post mortem on the cow's stomach today by a veterinarian revealed several nails, and four pieces of bailing wire. One piece of wire protruded through the stomach into the lung. The contents of the stomach worked through the channel made by the wire, forming a sack in the left lung, which gradually expanded until it filled the entire left lung.

MOVIES ARE INSULT TO HUMAN INTELLIGENCE

INTERVIEWED AT HIS HOTEL

New York, Jan. 30—"Seventy-five per cent of the motion pictures shown today are a brazen insult to human intelligence. This is because the trusts are purchasing pictures as a matter of industry—not art—and are employing factory methods."

This is the answer of Rodolph Valentino, champion Shiek, to the question, "What's the matter with the movie?"

Valentino was interviewed at his hotel here where he is residing while temporarily out of films due to dispute with his producers.

"There are a few conscientious independent stars and producers such as D. W. Griffith, Doug and Mary, and Charlie Chaplin, who realize that pictures come in the field of art—or should," said Valentino.

"The rest are a menace, trying to monopolize the theatres and commercialize art."

"The exhibitors are not to blame. In order to get a few really good pictures they are forced to sign up with the trusts for an entire year's output of eighty pictures and from thirty to thirty-five per cent are absolutely unusable."

Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly to get permanent relief from constipation!

Freedom from constipation, mild or chronic, can be surely looked for if you will eat Kellogg's Bran every day! Two tablespoonfuls are sufficient for severe cases with each meal. Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food awaiting a chance to bring back your health. Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that. Being cooked and crumbled, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor. It should not be confused with common bran which is unpalatable and hard to eat. Kellogg's Bran adds greatly to the pleasure of eating other hot or cold cereals. A popular way to serve Kellogg's Bran is to cook it with hot cereals. In preparation, add two tablespoonfuls of Bran for each person, mixing it with the cereal to be cooked. Kellogg's Bran is especially delicious in raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, macaroons, etc. Recipes appear on each package. Realize what Kellogg's Bran is doing for constipation sufferers all over the nation, then just think what it can do for you and yours. The horrors to come should guide you to eat bran regularly, to serve it in some form each day. You can drive constipation out of your family with Kellogg's Bran—and remove the cause of 90% of human illness! First-class hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant. All grocers.

The remarkable new film—

The Story of An Automobile

Here's a story of gripping interest with all the thrills of an actual trip through a great automobile plant.

You are invited to see it, as our guests.

Come — and bring the family.

To be shown at

GRAHAM ANNEX
Wednesday, Jan. 31st

Showing in afternoon for benefit of Schools, and at 7:30 for the public.

It will be a revelation to those who have never witnessed the many fascinating operations that enter into the manufacture of the motor car. And the camera has caught details that the eye would miss.

You see the raw materials enter, see them converted into the finished units and added in proper order to the ever-moving assembly line and finally the completed car driven away under its own power.

The picture was produced under the direction of the United States department of Commerce, in cooperation with the Studebaker Corporation and will be shown in all parts of the world. See it and you will realize why the representatives of fourteen nations, upon viewing the film in Washington, requested that it be exhibited in their respective countries.

100 WAYS To Make Money

By BILLY WINNER

If I Could Design—

I would not take me long to tell people my ability. Maybe I could design women's clothes, costumes, hats, etc. Maybe it would be furniture or wall paper or the like.

But I'd let people know—whatever it happened to be—so that they could come to me for designs. I'd let The Daily Republican Want Ads tell people that I had attractive designs for sale at attractive prices.

LAYING PULLETS NEED ABUNDANCE OF GRAIN

Laying pullets need an abundance of grain in cold weather to keep the body warm and maintain the small surplus of fat needed by all good layers, states Professor A. G. Phillips of the Purdue University Poultry Department.

A higher percentage of grain should be fed from October to January, slightly less from January to March and a normal ration in the spring. This enables pullets to keep up the body weight and still produce eggs. Most pullets that were early hatched properly matured and ready to lay in the winter fell down on the job when cold weather hit them, because they were too thin.

Poultrymen have learned to feed mash during the last few years but it must not be depended upon as much in the winter as the summer. Most pullets suffer in winter from too little grain in proportion to the mash, rather than too much. Full details for feeding laying hens are given in Purdue Experiment Station Bulletin No. 101.

Sauce For Walnut Pudding

Boil 1 cup sugar and  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup water until it spins a thread or to 232 degrees. Pour this over the beaten yolks of 3 eggs, stir quickly and set aside to cool, stirring occasionally. Just before serving add 1 teaspoon vanilla and stir in 2 cups whipped cream.

RATE COMPLAINTS TO BE ARBITRATED

TWO ARBITRATORS NAMED

G. N. Dagger and Howard M. Gore to Make Recommendations Which Will be Agreed to and Followed

The complaint of unjust, unreasonable and discriminatory commission charges filed before the Packers and Stockyards Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture by various live-stock producers' organizations against the commission market agencies, members of live-stock exchanges, at a number of the large central markets is to be handled by arbitration instead of the usual formal hearings. This informal or referee method has been approved by the Secretary of Agriculture, and G. N. Dagger and Howard M. Gore of the Packers and Stockyards Administration will act as arbitrators to study the situation and make recommendations which the representatives of the producers and the live-stock exchanges have agreed to accept and follow out.

The producers' organizations filed the complaint July 25, 1922, but before dates for formal hearings were set the patrons and commission men at the several markets began to negotiate for some plan for friendly settlement. Stipulations were soon drawn up, and so far agreements have been signed by the producers, and the commission agencies at Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul, and Chicago. It is expected that similar stipulations will be signed soon by the agencies at Ft. Worth, Texas, and Portland, Oregon, and the producers.

This friendly method of ironing out differences that have arisen between the live-stock producers and live-stock exchanges is pleasing to Secretary Wallace, who says that it was the intention of Congress that such matters be disposed of in this way whenever possible, as was made plain by the statement of the Committee on Agriculture of the House in reporting out the Packers and Stockyards bill, when it said that "it is believed that the mere existence of a Federal law on the subject will in most cases make it possible for the Secretary through a representative, to adjust the complaints of shippers and purchasers, without the necessity of resorting to the formal procedure contained in this title of the bill."

"The action of the live-stock exchanges at Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City, and St. Paul in submitting their charges to two arbitrators that are connected with the Packers and Stockyards Administration is extremely gratifying," said the Secretary. "In so doing they have waived their right of appeal and review by the courts given them by the statute. This manifestation of faith in the personnel of the Department of Agriculture shows that the new control act is being administered in a constructive way. The livestock exchanges have fearlessly cast aside their legal rights and propose to allow two men not connected with the commission business to fix their rates and charges on any basis which to the arbitrators may be deemed just and proper."

By this informal procedure it is expected that satisfactory adjustments will be obtained and that at the same time harmony and goodwill be preserved among the various parts of the live-stock industry. The arbitrators have stated that a full opportunity will be given to all interested parties to be heard in an informal public hearing, the time of which will be announced later. At the same time they will make a thorough investigation and endeavor to secure all material facts bearing upon the character of the service rendered by the commission man and the cost as well as the value of rendering that service.

The complaint against the commission agencies was made by the American National Livestock Association, the National Wood Growers' Association, and 13 other live-stock producers' organizations.

TRAINMEN ADDED

Plymouth, Ind., Jan. 27.—Increases are being made in train and engine forces on the Ft. Wayne divisions of the Pennsylvania railroad between Chicago and Ft. Wayne. Twenty freight firemen and eight yard firemen as well as many brakemen have been employed by the company recently.

DAIRY COURSE TO CLOSE ON MARCH 9

WORK VERY PRACTICAL

Laboratory Practice in Butter and Ice Cream Making are Carried on in University Laboratories

The Purdue University Winter course in Dairy Manufacturing commenced last week and will continue until March 9. This course of eight weeks is planned to meet the needs and suit the convenience of the busy creamery operator and helper and is useful to men who wish to take up Dairy Manufacturing work or men who have had Creamery and Ice Cream or City Milk Plant experience in assisting them in filling positions requiring more responsibility than those they are now holding. The work is very practical and is outlined so that the student may get the greatest benefit from his work at the University in this short time. A large part of the theoretical work is eliminated and a great deal of emphasis is placed on the practical side in Dairy Manufacturing. There has always been a shortage of trained men for positions which have been open in Dairy Manufacturing work.

The course is given during the slack season of the Dairy Manufacturing plants and is finished early enough to allow the student time to secure employment during the busy season of the year when men with

this kind of training are in greatest demand.

Laboratory practice in butter and ice cream making are carried on in the University Creamery and other laboratories of the department. The Purdue Creamery is operated on a commercial basis the year round and is amply equipped for giving this kind of instruction. The following subjects are taken up in the course:

- (1) Creamery buttermaking and Factory Management. Four lectures and eight laboratory hours per week.
- (2) Farm Dairying. Two lectures and three laboratory hours per week.
- (3) Creamery Machinery and Repairs. Two lectures and three laboratory hours per week.
- (4) Ice Cream Making. Two lectures and three laboratory hours per week.
- (5) Testing Milk and Its Products. Two lectures and four laboratory hours per week.
- (6) Market Milk and Cheese. Three lecture hours per week.
- (7) Dairy Bacteriology. Two lecture hours per week.

All applicants for this winter course must be at least eighteen years of age and should have had a common school education. A high school course is not required.

The total cost of the course should not exceed $130 and this includes room, board, books and other incidental expenses.

For additional information, address Dean J. H. Skinner, of the Purdue School of Agriculture, Lafayette, Indiana.

GIVE FLAGS TO SCHOOLS

Muncie Ind., Jan. 30.—The American flag will fly over every school building in Muncie in the future. The Junior Order of Mechanics presented a flag to each school.

STATE BEE LAWS ARE RECOGNIZED

Beekeepers of That State to Adopt
Laws Similar to Indiana's

Indiana Produces Six Million Pounds
of Honey Annually and Production Probably Will be Doubled

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 18—Indiana's beekeeping laws are rapidly gaining favorable recognition over the entire nation.

Recently the Illinois legislature was asked by the beekeepers of that state to adopt laws similar to Indiana, and today Frank N. Wallace, entomologist in the Indiana conservation department, was requested by Ray H. Dunbar, of Chamberlain, S.
D. for copies of Indiana bee laws which he proposes to present to the South Dakota legislature with a request that similar legislation be enacted.

Mr. Dunbar writes that he is president of the South Dakota beekeepers association. He is obtaining copies of laws of states where beekeeping has made notable progress.
Indiana was selected, he says, because of our comprehensive legislation on the subject.

It is interesting to note, says
Wallace, that under the Indiana system of inspection, bee diseases have not only been controlled, but that foulbrood, the most vicious form of disease derogative to the industry, has been reduced from 20 percent

ten years ago to 4 percent in 1922.
Honey production has greatly increased both by reason that colonies unaffected with diseases yield bigger returns, and cognizant that competent laws and an energetic field force constantly guard their interests, apiarists increased colony holdings. Today Indiana produces six million pounds of honey annually, and beekeepers are confident that in the next few years production will be doubled.

ers who own such a small equity in their farms that they may eventually be forced to sell. A number of purchasers have been able to transfer their indebtedness from private banks or loan companies to the Federal Land Banks or Federal Farm Loan Associations. This will enable them to spread out the burden over a number of years. Large initial payments are required in order to make this possible.

There has been no well established land mark in central Indiana for almost three years, foreclosures sheriff sales, and the settlement of estates constituting the larger part of the farm land sales. Land prices have been very erratic and furnishes little and inconclusive data concerning the probable level at which farm land values will become settled under present economic conditions. Land which sold for $175 to $250 per acre in 1919 and 1920 is now selling for $125 to $175 per acre.

At the time when prices of agricultural products and of farm lands were declining most rapidly, taxes were being increased. Taxes on farm lands in Clinton County were increased from $1.42 per acre in 1919 to $1.84 per acre in 1922. There was a similar increase in Boone county during this period. Taxes were highest in this section in 1921 and 1922 which were years of comparatively low returns to farmers. The increases in taxes varied in different townships and were due primarily to increased levies for local purposes over which the farmers themselves have to exercise control.

"But despite these conditions," the department says, "much of the pessimism of 18 months ago has disappeared. The 1922 corn crop was about an average crop and of very good quality whereas there was much low grade and rotten corn in central Indiana in 1921. The fall weather of 1922 was very favorable to the gathering and marketing of the crop.
The prices of both corn and hogs are higher than they were in the fall of 1921. At the same time by the strict economy forced upon them the farmers have been able to reduce still further production costs of their products.

"The 1922 wheat crop in this area was somewhat below normal. Oats were very poor in 1921 and practically a failure in 1922. Rye has never been an important crop in these counties, but the acreage devoted to rye seems to be gradually increasing at the expense of the wheat and oats acreage. There appears to be a slight shift from oats to wheat or rye for the coming year as a result of the two successive failures with oats.
These shifts are mostly temporary and confined to rather definite limits.
Cattle feeding has never been an important enterprise on the farms of this area, but it is even less important at the present time."

"My flock is going to be a gold

Federation of Farmer's Association Legislative committee. "The early

they have made money each year.
Even in 1921 when most people lost money on their sheep these ewes were a good investment for me. They did not make as much money in 1921 as during some other years, neither did they lose money."

"It was the early lamb that saved me a loss. The 156 ewes raised me 210 lambs to market age. The lambs were born in January and put on the market early in May at 12c per pound. The ewes sheared on the average of 10 pounds of wool per head and I had several ewes that sheared 12 to 15 pounds. I put my 1920 wool clip on the market at 25c per pound and my 1921 wool clip did nearly as well. The early lamb is the best market lamb for Indiana farmers."

The Gold Medal Sheep club is being started by the Indiana Livestock Producers' Association and the Agricultural Extension department of Purdue University. Gold medals will be given those who make their lambs reach 80 pounds by July 1.

This is proved by the fact that most of the men who grew beans last year found them such good feed that they refused to sell them.

Peanut Clusters

Roast some peanuts in the oven and remove the skins. Melt a small piece of sweet chocolate, and when the nuts are cold stir them in the chocolate and drop in clusters on wax paper to harden. Can be made quickly and are cheaper than buying them.

SHOULD OBSERVE "FLY-FREE" DATE

Each Year Farmers Of Country Suffer A Heavy Loss Due To The

TWO GENERATIONS A YEAR

Fly Free Dates For Indiana Range
From Sept. 20 On Extreme North
To Oct. 5 In "Pocket" Region

In this part of the United States the Hessian Fly is undoubtedly the wheat growers' most serious pest.
Each year the farmers of this country suffer a loss due to the ravages of this insect aggregating millions of dollars. This loss enormous as it is, could be very materially reduced if not entirely prevented if the farmers would observe the "fly free" sowing date, says Prof. W. A. Price of Purdue University.

Life history studies have revealed the fact that there are two generations per year—one coming in the spring and the other in the fall. The adults producing the fall brood emerge for the most part in September and October—the exact time depending upon the latitude and climatic conditions. Eggs are laid within a few days after the adult flies appear and if there are no wheat plants available for egg laying, deposition is made on other plants or on the ground—in either case the wheat does not suffer. By sowing wheat at such time as to have it appear above ground within a day or two after the eggs have been deposited, the farmer will have observed the "fly free" date, and in so doing will have made a most important move in the direction of the elimination of this enormous annual loss.

The past year was not a serious fly year in this section yet there is at this time plenty of fly in the state especially in the sections where the sowing dates were not universally observed. Cooperation among the farmers of the state in the observance of the sowing dates, would eliminate these spotted infected areas, leaving a uniformly low infestation or none at all.
The fly-free dates for Indiana range from September 20 on the extreme north to Oct. 5 in "the Pocket" region.

MAY RAISE MORE PIGS IN SPRING

Sows Bred to Farrow During 1922 Will be 13 Percent More Than Number in 1921

DEPENDS ON HOG PRICES

Agriculture Department Received For Report More Than 200,000 Replies to Questionnaires

The number of sows bred to farrow during the first six months of 1922 will be 13 percent more than the number of sows which actually farrowed in the spring of 1922, provided farmers carry out their intentions as indicated in the December 1, 1922, pig survey made by the United States Department of Agriculture. For the 11 Corn Belt states the survey shows an intention to breed 15.6 per cent more sows than a year ago. Most of the Southern States show an actual decrease in prospect for 1923.

The probable increase in farrowings in the spring of 1923 over 1922 compares with an increase of 22.8 per cent in the spring of 1922 over 1921 in the 11 Corn Belt states. The spring pig crop of 1922 in the Southern States was about the same as in 1921. Comparisons for other states are not available.

Whether or not the expressed intentions of farmers with regard to the number of sows to be bred to farrow next spring will be carried out will depend largely on the relative prices of hogs and corn, the department says.

An actual increase of 16 percent in the number of spring pigs in 1922 over 1921 is shown in the December survey as compared with the estimated increase of 14.5 percent shown in the May survey. The number of pigs saved per litter up to July 1, 1922, in the Corn Belt states is placed at 5.8 as compared with 5.7 saved up to May 1. This increase in number of pigs saved accounts for the revised estimate in the number of spring pigs in 1922, the department says.

The number of litters farrowed in the United States in the fall of 1922

shows an increase of 13.6 per cent over the fall of 1921. An increase of 27.8 percent is shown for the 11 Corn Belt states as compared with an intended increase in these states of 49 percent in the number of sows to be bred for fall farrowing, as reported last May. The survey shows that in the Corn Belt states 6.1 pigs per litter were saved in the fall of 1922 as compared with 5.9 pigs saved from the 1921 fall litters. For the entire United States a saving of 6.1 pigs per litter in the fall of 1922 as compared with 6 pigs per litter in 1921 is shown.

The decrease in actual number of pigs last fall as compared with intentions of farmers the preceding May is attributed to the decline in hog prices, increased corn prices, increased losses from hog cholera and other diseases, and to the publicity given the results of the spring pig survey made by the Department of Agriculture. Losses from hog cholera and other diseases in the 11 Corn Belt states for the year show an increase of 22.6 percent over losses in 1921.

The Department received for this report more than 200,000 replies to questionnaires distributed and gathered by rural mail carriers in all sections of the United States where pigs are produced for market. The survey is but the second of its kind that has been made and there has not yet been opportunity to check any differences that may exist between the figures shown for the farms reporting and those for all farms. It is pointed out, however, that the forecast made last spring of an increase of 14.5 percent in the number of spring pigs over the preceding year is being borne out by the increased volume of receipts at the principal stockyards during the past three months. The surveys also show that the production of fall pigs in proportion to spring pigs has increased materially during the past two years, thus making for a more stabilized supply of pigs throughout the year.

The department points out that increased production does not necessarily mean an over-supply or decline in prices. Total receipts of hogs at all public stockyards during the first 11 months of 1922 were 5 percent more than in 1921. During the last four months of 1922 the in-

and prices showed a substantial advance over 1921. The department's explanation for this situation is that improved industrial and economic conditions resulted in an increased consumptive demand and a much freer, current movement of pork and lard into trade channels.

LEONARD

Three-Fuel Range in the Kitchen

It's a beauty, and it makes a tremendous "hit" with every member of the family. For the busy housewife it means a kitchen that's delightfully cool in summer and comfortably warm and cozy in winter. It makes her cooking and baking a pleasant task and helps her keep sweet. It gives her more leisure hours for recreation and more pleasant duties, and keeps her fresh to enjoy them.

In addition to its attractive combination feature the Leonard Three-Fuel Range has the largest high oven improvement which makes a direct appeal to every woman who has felt the fatigue of constantly stooping over a low oven. The Leonard oven is just the right height for convenience—and in addition, it heats more quickly, more evenly, with less fuel, than the low oven, where the heat has to be forced out of its natural course.

The Leonard Three-Fuel is a gas range with fire box for coal and wood built in. It burns burning gas and dry garbage and for taking the chill off the rooms in cold weather. One heat easily well with coal gas may be used at the same time, if desired, for cooking on top of stove.

Don't miss this opportunity to see the Leonard for yourself and compare it point by point with other ranges before you buy. No obligation. We'll gladly show it to you and let you decide for the best.

VALUE OF FERTILIZING UNDRAINED LAND IS PROVED IN EXPERIMENT

OBTAINS GOOD RESULTS

By G. P. WALKER

(Purdue University Agricultural Experiment Station)

Limestone and fertilizer have increased the corn crop over 44 bushels per acre in the last two years on the undrained land of the Jennings County Experiment Field which is operated by the Agricultural Experiment Station of Purdue University. The untreated land produced 40 bushels per acre in the two crops, while the limed and fertilized land made 84.4 bushels. The limestone was used at the rate of 3 tons per acre in 1920 and the fertilizer, an 0-12-8 formula, was applied to each crop at 300 pounds per acre. The total cost of the limestone and fertilizer used has been a little less than $12 per acre for the two crops. The corn was sold at 55 cents per bushel last year and is worth 65 this year, which makes an average price of 60 cents per bushel. 44 bushels at 60c gives $26.40 as the value of the increase produced by the $12 worth of limestone and fertilizer in two years. This is on undrained slash land that has only made 20 bushels per acre each year where no soil treatment had been given.

On drained land of this same type limestone alone has increased the yield of corn 9 bushels per acre each year so that $7.50 worth of limestone has in the two years, produced 18 bushels more corn worth $10.80 per acre. Experience has shown that the 3 tons of limestone applied two years ago will continue to give similar increases for 6 to 8 years. On the old experiment field east of North Vernon, $10.00 worth of limestone per acre has produced increased crops worth over $32.00 in seven years. The limed land on both fields produced a nice crop of clover hay last year, while the unlimed

Fertilizer pays better on limed land than on unlimed. Fertilizer without lime has increased the corn yield 5 bushels per acre and wheat a little less than 5 bushels, but it produced no clover at all. On limed land the same fertilizer increased the corn yield 10.5 bushels per acre, wheat 6 bushels and clover hay 1/2 of a ton. 400 pounds of a 2-12-8 fertilizer on the limed land has paid $7.00 per acre more than the same fertilizer on the unlimed land.

The crops produced on the limed and fertilized land have been worth

$16.00 more per acre than from the strip which received the same fertilizer but no limestone. There has really been a greater difference because of the much better quality of grain and hay produced on the limed land.

Manure also pays better on limed land than on the unlimed. On the old experiment field manure has been applied every third year since 1912. On the strip which had limestone in 1912, the manure has increased the corn yield 25.2 bushels, wheat, 8.3 bushels and clover hay 1/2 of a ton while on the unlimed strip it has increased the corn yield 17.8 bushels, wheat 6.4 bushels, and hay 1-5 of a ton. The value of the increase produced by the manure on the limed strip has averaged almost $3.00 more per acre each year than the increase on the unlimed land.

Limestone is the one big need of most of the land in Jennings County, and with fertilizer it is the best investment that any farmer who farms the slash land can make. Not only does it increase the grain crops but it grows clover where it could not be grown before, and in that way produces a feed that is ten times better for making milk and growing young stock than the ordinary red top tickle-grass hay that is now harvested and fed on so many farms. It is giving good results on the undrained land and will help to make drainage possible. It increases the benefits to be derived from the use of fertilizer. If F. W. Potts, as county agent, can get the farmers of Jennings County to buy 500 carloads of ground limestone this year, he will be doing them the greatest service possible.

GRADING HOGS

As a live stock producer it is to your interest to keep tab on the discussions affecting your business. Many trade and agricultural papers are agitating the pushing of work establishing uniform market classes and grades of hogs for all live stock markets. Producers commission agencies realize probably more than any other marketing agency the need for establishing uniform market classes and grades. Such work is fundamental and the evidence is all more conclusive if we reason backwards and see the shape in which we would be if there were no standard brands of shoes, clothes, farm machinery and so forth. Some agricultural journals have taken several steps farther and advocated that the grading of hogs be done by government graders, while still others propose a "fixed differential" between the various grades of hogs. Producers commission agencies are not ready at this time to endorse a movement farther than the establishing of uniform classes and grades.

NATIONAL MARKETING OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

The shippers of vegetables and fruits in Indiana will be pleased to learn that a new National Fruit and Vegetable Growers Inc. has been organized and is now ready for business. This organization will have sales representatives in over 200 of the largest cities in the United States and will be grower-owned and grower-operated. It will be operated by the officials of the North American Fruit Exchange, and organization which handled about 40,000 cars of fruit this season at a great saving to the growers. The business of this exchange will be taken over by the new Fruit and Vegetable Growers Inc., starting January 1. The new organization is sponsored by the Farm Bureau Federation and is the result of the studies of their committee of 21 who have been working on the new plans for over a year.

R. E. Hanley, Supl., of the Western Division will appear before the State Vegetable Growers Association meeting at Purdue University January 10, to present the possibilities of using this organization to advantage. Shippers of vegetables and fruits can well afford to be present at this meeting.

Everything Points to the Greatest Spring Demand for Ford Products in Company's History

1,202,517 Ford Cars and Trucks were delivered to retail purchasers in the United States alone during 1922—

Actual deliveries for last month greatly exceeded any previous December in the history of the Ford Motor Company—

It was the ninth consecutive month in which more than 100,000 Ford Cars and Trucks were retailed—keeping the Ford Plants working at capacity to meet dealers requirements—

In many parts of the country dealers are already finding it necessary to specify later delivery dates on certain

types because there are no reserve stocks to draw from—Commercial users, business houses and farmers anticipating their future requirements, are placing orders and taking delivery of Ford Cars, Trucks and Fordson Tractors to insure against delay—

Everything points to the biggest shortage of Ford Products this Spring that has ever existed—

The only way you can be sure of obtaining delivery of a Ford Car, Truck or Fordson Tractor is to list your order immediately—

We have given you these facts as they actually exist so that if you are planning to purchase a Ford Car, Truck or Tractor for use this Spring or Summer, you can list your order now and take advantage of our dealer's first opportunity to deliver.

WEED CHATS WITH FARMERS

ALBERT A. HANSEN

(Purdue University Agricultural Extension Department)

Did you ever plant wheat and get a crop of cheat? Did you ever cut wheat or oats and see a patch of cheat come up where the grain was cut? Looked as though the wheat or oats turned to cheat, didn't it?

But it didn't. Wheat has as much chance of turning into cheat as a cat has of turning into a lion, because the relationship is just about as close. Wherever you find a cheat plant you can be absolutely sure that it came from cheat seed and from nothing else, although the manner in which cheat springs up where wheat should grow certainly looks mysterious.

But if the cheat grows from cheat seed, where did the cheat seed come from? Perhaps it was sown as an impurity in the seed wheat or it might have been lying in the soil, the product of cheat plants that matured seeds several years ago. Cheat seeds have the ability to lie dormant in the ground for several years, waiting for the first good opportunity to grow, and that opportunity is furnished whenever conditions are unfavorable for the wheat, as winter killing or injury from the Hessian fly. Ordinarily, cheat does not attempt to compete with wheat, since cheat is not as strong a grower. But as soon as the wheat weakens, the cheat springs up very quickly and the effect is very deceiving and might easily lead to the conclusion that the wheat has turned to cheat.

If anyone doubts that cheat comes from cheat seeds only, let him plant some wheat in a box containing soil that was secured from the woods where it is known that cheat never grew. If he can turn the wheat into cheat, then he will have accomplished a miracle that is unknown to science.

In weak stands of grain patches of cheat are sometimes harvested with the wheat from which the cheat seeds are separated with difficulty. When the cheat gets into the flour, it causes a dark color and imparts a disagreeable flavor.

It will be a surprise to many Indiana farmers to learn that cheat is a good hay plant and is cultivated for this purpose in Oregon and Georgia. The crop is planted in the fall and cut green. I know of at least one farm in Indiana where cheat is purposely grown for hay, but my personal opinion is that any small grain would do just as well and would not foul the land with seeds that might cause future trouble.

It is a mistake to allow cheat seeds to mature on the farm. A cultivated crop well tilled combined with the use of pure seed will usually drive out cheat. Cheat may be removed from seed wheat by pouring the infested wheat into a barrel of water. The heavy wheat grains sink and the light cheat seed can be skimmed off the surface. A good time to do this is when the seed wheat is immersed in a formaldehyde solution for the control of stinking smut. Both the smutted wheat grains and the cheat seeds can be skimmed off together.

Salted Almonds

Blanch the almonds by pouring boiling water over them, and remove the skins by rubbing them. For each pint of nuts melt 1 tablespoon butter in a pan, and when hot stir in the nuts. Stir constantly until they are browned sufficiently, then sprinkle with salt. Spread out on brown paper to absorb the extra fat. The nuts cook somewhat after being taken from the fire, so do not allow them to get too brown before removing them.

COOPERATION IS A BIG SUCCESS

By HERBERT W. LITTLE
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Madison, Wis. Jan. 30.—Wisconsin farmers are solving their marketing problems through one of the largest systems of cooperative associations in the country.

The middleman is beginning to take the count. An annual business of $60,000,000 a year, done through cooperatives, which are operating successfully in fourteen different knocking him for successive rows of knocking him successive rows of goals.

Success of the Badger cooperatives is due in a large degree to the facts that the organizations have been evolved through long development and with same state aid and supervision, and to the fact that many of the farmers of the state are of Scandinavian descent, according to Prof. B. H. Hibbard, of the agricultural economic department of the University of Wisconsin.

The Scandinavian's success are due to long experience in their mother countries, where agricultural cooperatives are a matter of governmental policy.

About 800 of the two thousand cheese factories that make up the manufacturing end of the industry in which Wisconsin produces three-fourths of the nation's supply of

cheese are cooperative, it is estimated.

More than 600 cooperatives live stock shipping associations are in operation at present, the first one in the United States having been started at Ellsworth, Wis., in 1908.

Of the 335 creameries, 380 are cooperative.

Cooperative merchantile stores have been least successful in the state, 17 out of 57 started having "failed in business."

Other branches of cooperative activity in the state are 98 feed, elevator and produce companies; 27 potato shipping organizations; 122 community breeders' associations 214 mutual insurance companies; about 480 mutual telephone companies; 6 tobacco marketing organizations, and 6 fruit exchanges.

Most of the successful cooperatives started in small enterprises devoted to handling of essentials and developed under efficient handling.
